Gracious God, as we begin again in a new year let us continue communicating with You and willingly listening for Your wise answers that can guide us effectively this year. Help us be mindful always that it is Your Word that calls us to serve others even when differences arise among us. Help us make good use of our collective wisdom and seek to understand each other better.

And Lord we remember the departing of Your saints, especially Mary Frances Hunter Kinder whom we commit to Your keeping and pray for our Lt. Governor and his family during this time of grief that You will comfort them and abide with them and give them Your peace. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

President Pro Tem Gibbons assumed the dais and delivered the following address:

Opening Address

Senator Michael R. Gibbons, President Pro Tem
Second Regular Session, 94th General Assembly
January 9, 2008

Lt. Governor Kinder, members of the Missouri Senate, our families, friends, and people of Missouri:

We are honored by your presence Lt. Governor, so soon after the loss of your mother, and on behalf of the entire Senate family, we extend our deepest sympathies.

We are gathered again in this magnificent chamber to start another session of work for the people of Missouri. This is an important year and we have much to do. Yes, it is an election year. Nationally, it is the first presidential campaign in 56 years that does not include an incumbent president or vice president, and it appears to be wide open on both sides. In Missouri, five out of the six statewide offices are on the ballot, as well as half of our chamber and the entire House. Some of our members are running for reelection, some others are seeking new offices, and four of us are term-limited.

But there is something more important facing us in the first four and a half months of 2008 - that is doing the work of the Legislature to make the lives of the people we serve better. Political pundits say nothing much will happen here this year. We owe it to the people of Missouri to prove them wrong.

It is fitting that we begin in January, because this is the time of year that exudes hope and optimism. The New Year is here, and all things are possible. We meet people every day who come here as advocates, regardless of past disappointments, who believe this is the year their issue will succeed. We owe it to the people who care so much that they travel here to share their ideas to listen to them and take action where we can.

Were we elected simply to engage in political posturing? To test the wind or react to the latest poll? Or, are we here to give voice to the hopes and dreams of the people and look for those opportunities to make life better for the people we represent?

The answer, of course, is up to us.

We owe the people being taxed out of their homes our best effort to protect them from tax increases caused by reassessment.

We owe the lawful residents of Missouri our best effort to protect their safety, jobs and benefits, rather than reward illegal immigrants with jobs and public support at the taxpayers' expense.

We owe the people our best effort to help them find and afford health insurance through a marketplace that puts them in the driver's seat when it comes to healthcare decisions for their families.

These are some of the concerns that people bring up to me from all around our state. It's not a game to the people at home; they expect us to fix these problems. So, I ask you: Are we here to craft a political ad, or are we here to make life better for Missourians?

We must give our best effort. The people deserve it.

As we sit in this chamber, sometimes it is easy to overlook the messages that surround us. So let's consider the stained glass and paintings our forebearers put here some 80 years ago to speak to us every day.

On your right, there's Daniel Boone at the Judgment Tree in St. Charles County considering justice for a man accused of stealing; then Jefferson greeting Lewis and Clark on the porch of the White House upon their return from their Great Expedition to the West. To your left is our first United States Senator, Thomas Hart Benton, giving a speech in St. Louis in 1849 in support of Westward Expansion; and next to that is Frank Blair, who was running for the U.S. Senate giving a speech at Louisiana, Missouri, after he had been threatened that he would be killed if he showed up to speak because of his support for the repeal of the loyalty oath required after the Civil War. Above me is Hernando DeSoto who landed in the Spanish Region of Florida and led his men up the Mississippi River looking for riches.

In the seven years I've had the privilege of working in this chamber, I've thought a lot about these historic figures and what they have in common. What I believe they have in common is they were all, in their own way, courageous explorers enduring hardships through the unknown in pursuit of their vision for a better future.

These works of art are here to challenge us every day as we work through the unknowns of our time. They challenge us to be courageous, confront the unknown and act to secure a better future for all the people of Missouri.

On May 17th, we can take our cases to the people and let them judge how we have done. But from now until May 16th, I challenge all of us to work hard together to better the lives of the people of Missouri.

President Kinder assumed the Chair.

In accordance with Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read.

RESOLUTIONS

Senators Gibbons and Coleman offered the following resolution:

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FOURTH DAY—TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Fear not tomorrow, for God is already there.” -Unknown

Gracious Lord, we know many of the challenges that are laid out before us and we will hear more tonight. Some items make us uncomfortable for we don’t know what they will bring us if we try to meet them or what will happen if we do nothing. But we do know that You know the future that lays ahead so we ask that You might guide and direct us so we may be part of the solutions that will make the future unfold as You will for us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE CHANGE

Notice is hereby given by the Senator from the Fifth District of the one day notice required by rule of intent to put a motion to adopt the following rule change:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, that Senate Rule 84 be amended to read as follows:

"Rule 84. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?". It shall only be admitted on written demand of five senators, and sustained by a vote of [a majority] two-thirds of the senators elected, and in effect shall be put without debate, and bring

On demand for the previous question, a call of the senate shall be in order, but after [a majority] two-thirds of the senators elected have sustained such a motion, no call shall be in order prior to the decision on the main question.

Senator Crowell, joined by the entire membership, offered the following resolution, which was read:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1516

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate are deeply saddened by the recent news of the passing of Mary Kinder, a life-long resident of Cape Girardeau, Missouri; and

Whereas, Mary Kinder was born on June 17, 1926, in Benton, Missouri, at the family home on what was then known as Hunter Hill, the youngest of five children born to William Joseph and Ida May Wise Hunter; and

Whereas, in 1943 Mary Kinder graduated from Cape Central High School at the age of sixteen and proceeded on to Christian College in Columbia, Missouri, for a two-year degree, and from there she went on to the University of Maryland, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and earned a bachelor of arts degree in 1947; and

Whereas, a highlight of these years was a double date she shared with Margaret Truman: arriving at the White House to join Miss Truman before meeting the young soldiers who were their dates for the evening, Truman said her father wanted to meet young Miss Hunter, and in due course the elevator doors opened and out stepped a smiling, immaculately dressed president of the United States for a brief but friendly chat; and

Whereas, after graduating, Miss Hunter returned to Cape Girardeau and took a job working for Dean Forrest Rose on the campus at Southeast, and in early 1948, she met Dr. James A. Kinder Jr., a local pediatrician newly practicing in the area, and, like her, a fifth-generation Southeast Missourian, and they were married at her family home on North Park Avenue on October 30, 1948; and

Whereas, Mary Kinder nurtured a lifelong passion for the study, performance, and encouragement of music, and when a student she played the cello in the orchestra and mastered the piano, which gave her lifelong pleasure, but it was as a soprano that she is probably best known in the region, as she achieved a measure of local fame in her fifty years of singing duets with her dear friend, the late Millie Limbaugh; and

Whereas, other civic endeavors included membership in the Nancy Hunter Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the GF Chapter of the PEO sisterhood, as well as service on the board of the Trust for Preservation of the Missouri Governor's Mansion, and in 1987 Mary Kinder joined with her friend, the late Frances Blankenship, as founding co-chairwomen of the first annual Cape Girardeau Cancer Gala; and

Whereas, Mary Kinder was an active member of the Cape Girardeau County Medical Auxiliary (now Alliance) during the fifty-two years of her husband's practice, tirelessly supporting him in his wide-ranging professional endeavors, and this support included hosting promising young physicians on countless occasions, in a frequently successful effort to recruit new specialties to Cape's small but growing medical community; and

Whereas, Mary and James Kinder were the devoted parents to four sons: James A. Kinder III and his wife, Rosie, of Cairo, Illinois; Frank M. Kinder and his wife, Lori Ann, of Cape Girardeau; Peter D. Kinder of Cape Girardeau; and USAF Reserve Major Dr. Mark H. Kinder and his wife, Barbara, of Cape Girardeau; and the loving grandparents of nine children:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, extend our most sincere condolences on this sad occasion; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the family of Mary Kinder, as a measure of our esteem.

Senator Rupp offered Senate Resolution No. 1517, regarding the Fifty-fifth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hawkins, O'Fallon, which was adopted.

Senator Rupp offered Senate Resolution No. 1518, regarding the Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Salvador Sperandeo, Dardenne Prairie, which was adopted.

Senator Rupp offered Senate Resolution No. 1519, regarding the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ruwwe, Dardenne Prairie, which was adopted.

of the Daughters of the American Revolution National Society chapter, Saint Joseph, which was adopted.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Matt Blunt, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

CHANGE THAT IS WORKING

Lt. Governor Kinder, President Pro Tem Gibbons, Speaker Jetton, distinguished officials, judges of the Supreme Court, members of the General Assembly, reverend clergy, my fellow Missourians:

Just over 200 years ago, Lewis and Clark returned with their band of rugged explorers to tell the nation, and the world, about the treasures west of the Mississippi. Our state was the first of those treasures.

As the world looked to America, America looked to Missouri. Soon, our state was being settled by hard-working, independent, prudent, faithful, optimistic Americans. By 1904, the character of Missourians was widely-known. As the world descended on St. Louis for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, visitors were treated to “The State of Missouri,” a book which described the spirit of our state as “the spirit of progress, tempered by conservatism.” And the “spirit of a community, conscious of its own secure position....hospitable, generous, brave.”

The spirit of Missouri has held fast. Missourians remain independent, hospitable, generous, and brave. We cherish individualism, tempered by the bonds of community and the Heartland values of faith, family, and freedom. We are practical. We seek solutions.

Missourians want and deserve government that reflects Missouri values, government which rewards work and responsibility, encourages creativity, protects law-abiding citizens, spends tax dollars wisely, and helps those who cannot help themselves.

Unfortunately, that is not always what they have received. Only four years ago, bad public policy was causing our state to lose jobs at an alarming – and unacceptable rate. Business-as-usual in the state capitol was hurting Missouri families.

Missourians demanded change: to put Missouri families, Missouri values, and Missouri taxpayers first. We embarked on a course to bring jobs back to our state. We have succeeded. Change is working. Since January of 2005, Missourians have created nearly 90,000 jobs.

Change is working. Missourians are prospering.

Tonight, I am pleased to report: our economy is growing, our schools are improving, our health care system has been transformed for the better, and, most importantly, because we have the strength of Missourians as our foundation: THE STATE OF OUR STATE IS STRONG.

RESPECTING MISSOURIANS' HARD EARNED DOLLARS

The changes we have made are working, but I know that many Missouri families are struggling with mortgages, three dollar a gallon gasoline and a government in Washington that fails to address their day-to-day problems.

Now is not the time to go back to the old ways of bigger government, higher taxes, more lawsuits, and too much regulation. The changes we secured – lawsuit reform, regulatory improvements, and working with rather than against farmers and small business owners – were vital in creating new jobs.

Equally important was responsible stewardship of taxpayer's hard-earned dollars. All too often in the past, state government saw tax collection as a natural right of government rather than as a necessary evil. Spending went up, and, if we had not stepped in, more job-killing tax hikes would have followed.

We inherited a state budget that was broken and ruined by profligate spending. Many claimed it would be impossible to save the wrecked budget without increasing taxes. We proved them wrong. We eliminated tremendous amounts of waste and attacked fraud. We increased funding for education at all levels. And we fixed that inherited budget crisis WITHOUT raising job-killing taxes. In fact, we cut taxes. We took our state from a budget crisis to three consecutive budget surpluses.

We will not go back to the old-way. We will continue on our changed course. The budget I submit tonight reduces taxes, helps thousands of working Missouri families afford their own health insurance; supports law enforcement; and continues to increase our investment in education. My budget will increase opportunity and reduce taxes.

A WORLD CLASS EDUCATION

As long ago as 1786, Thomas Jefferson articulated a principle that became a bedrock Missouri value. Jefferson wrote: "By far the most important bill in our whole code is that for the diffusion of knowledge among the people. No other foundation can be devised for the preservation of freedom and happiness." It was true then and it is true today. Education is the most important investment we can make in our own, and in our children's future. It promotes our freedoms. It promotes our happiness, and, by creating opportunity, nurtures a society of rising prosperity.

Unfortunately, under the old way, education had become a pawn in budget battles. Students, teachers, and classrooms suffered under the way things were. When education was just an afterthought, it was easily sacrificed to cover out-of-control spending in other areas.

Missourians wanted a state government that would put classrooms, teachers, and, most importantly, students first. And that is what we have provided. Education is my highest budget priority.

By passing my budget, you will ensure, once again, that Missouri teachers and students have the resources they need to succeed. And when passed, we will have achieved a remarkable feat. By having the vision to look ahead and the fortitude to keep our commitments to the people of Missouri, we will have increased our total investment in education by 1.2 billion dollars.

My budget recommendations this year include significant increases in funding at all levels – from pre-school to graduate school. Elementary and secondary schools receive an increase of 121 million dollars or more than 4 percent from last year. Missouri colleges and universities receive more than 54.2 million dollars in direct funding, an increase of more than 6 percent. That includes funding to train more doctors, nurses, dentists, and pharmacists to meet the health care needs of Missourians.

Today's technology-driven economy places high value on skills in math, engineering, technology, and science. To ensure that the next generation enjoys even greater prosperity, we must provide our students with a world-class education in these subjects. We want our students to do more than merely keep up with their peers in other states and other countries. We want them to lead the world.

We have already taken several steps forward. We trained hundreds of Advanced Placement teachers and helped more students take Advanced Placement math and science tests. We built more technologically-advanced classrooms, and we funded after-school programs in math and science.

Our changes are working. Academic performance is improving. Missouri fourth and eighth-graders posted significant gains in the 2007 school year on national math tests. Missouri was one of only six states with fourth-graders who scored higher on all five sections of the national math exam. Missouri high school students also improved. A record seventy-four percent of Missouri seniors took the ACT last year, and they beat the national average.

These results are encouraging. But we must do more. I want our students to be better than above-average. I want Missouri students to be at the head of the class.

Tonight, I recommend increased investment in math and science education. I recommend three-quarters of a million dollars to train nearly 1,000 new Advanced Placement teachers and to help more than 6,000 Missouri students take Advanced Placement tests. I recommend 5 million dollars to create 100 technologically-advanced classrooms and to equip 300 classrooms with advanced math and science curriculum. And I recommend 1.1 million dollars for after-school programs, which help students learn, stay fit, stay safe, and stay out of trouble.

Missouri colleges and universities were also neglected by the failed priorities of the old budgets. We needed to invest in better classrooms and labs, and we are doing so.

Last year, for the first time ever, in order to protect Missouri families from future unreasonable tuition hikes, we capped tuition increases, and we launched the Lewis & Clark Discovery Initiative. Thus far, we have invested 289 million dollars for dozens of world-class learning centers to better compete with rival states.

This year, I recommend further investment. I request 31 million dollars for construction, renovation, and improvement of the Ellis Fischel Cancer Center at the University of Missouri, and another 15 million dollars for the Pharmacy and Nursing Building at the University of Missouri at Kansas City.

I also recommend continued increases in scholarship funding. My budget includes more than 25 million dollars for A+ student scholarships, helping more than 20,000 Missourians attend community colleges, nearly double the program's funding since January of 2005. And it includes even more significant increases in need-based scholarships.

When I took office, Missouri state government spent just 25 million dollars on need-based scholarships. We created the Access Missouri Scholarship initiative to simplify the application process for students, and we dramatically increased funding. Before Access Missouri, we issued 16,400 scholarships. So far this year, with Access Missouri, we have helped more than 36,000 students.

One of those students is here tonight. I would like to introduce you to Traci Clark and her daughter Bree. Traci is a nursing student at the University of Missouri at St. Louis. During a recent visit to UMSL, Traci told me that her daughter inspired her to go back to school, and that Access Missouri was vital to make college affordable, and her dreams come true. Traci is a great example of how the Access Missouri scholarship is allowing Missouri students to reach their full potential and be of service to our fellow Missourians in the years to come. Traci and Bree: thank you for being here.

Tonight, I recommend 100 million dollars for Access Missouri scholarships – quadrupling our investment in need-based scholarships during my administration. This four-fold increase in scholarship funding will expand opportunity for thousands of Missourians studying to make their lives better and Missouri more prosperous.

The funding recommendations in my budget will provide our schools, teachers, and students with significant resources to be successful now, and in the future. Unlike in the past, we will not leave our schools, teachers, or students scraping for left-overs. And I will keep my pledge to never withhold funds that you appropriate for our public schools.

We had a vision for a better future. We set priorities. We led. We maintained the resolve necessary to implement positive change. We will continue to advance. With this budget, over four years, we will have invested an additional 1.2 billion dollars in education.

PROTECTING MISSOURI TAXPAYERS

We have also protected Missouri taxpayers. Last spring, we cut taxes for Missouri seniors by passing the Senior Tax Justice Act, which will end state taxation of Social Security benefits.

Over the past three years, we have demonstrated that effective government need NOT be an intrusive, tax-raising Goliath. In fact, the opposite is true. As government wanders where it does not belong, it loses its effectiveness.

I want to ensure that state government serves citizens effectively and is directly accountable to the people who pay the bills. That is why I created the Missouri Accountability Portal, an Internet site enabling Missourians to track the expenditure of all tax dollars in near real-time. To guarantee future transparency, I urge the General Assembly to make the Accountability Portal permanent.

I also want to ensure that Missourians have a government they can trust. In 2006, I banned gifts from lobbyists to any employee of the Governor's office. I urge you to apply this ban on lobbyists' gifts to the entire executive branch.

Missourians must have a say over taxes and spending. When courts order higher taxes, it is taxation without representation, and against the first principles of democracy. This is America. People should never be taxed without their consent. Yet, courts elsewhere are beginning to usurp powers they do not have. One such area is the definition of marriage, which Missourians placed off limits to unelected judges in 2004. Courts are also beginning to hijack the powers to tax and spend. In Missouri a federal judge ordered new taxes. Just next door, a state court in Kansas recently followed that poor example. The time to close this door is NOT after a future Missouri court discovers a new and illegitimate power to tax. The time to close this door is NOW.

In America, the powers to tax and to spend are for the people directly, and their elected representatives. To protect government by the people, I recommend that you place on the ballot a measure to ensure that Missouri will never have judge-imposed taxes.

Though we have cut state taxes, not all local governments in Missouri have followed our lead.

All Missourians pay property taxes, whether directly or through higher rent. Rates are set by locally elected boards, but we can take action to stop these excessive local increases.

State law is flawed because it allows hidden tax increases, through mandated increases in property valuations. Property assessments and re-assessments should be fair. All too often, they have instead become a shadowy path to higher taxes. I look forward to working with you to develop tax reform that includes truth in taxation and mandatory levy rollbacks. It is imperative that all Missourians benefit from this relief. Let's not pick and choose who gets property tax relief. Let's protect all Missourians from these massive local property tax increases.

INCREASING ACCESS TO HEALTH CARE

By sticking to responsible budgets, making record investments in education, and protecting Missouri taxpayers, we have succeeded in making Missouri a state of greater opportunity. But work remains. I want more Missouri working families to have access to affordable health care. Missouri is among the 20 best states for the share of people with health coverage. I want us to do even better and I will not rest until every Missourian has access to affordable health care.

I inherited a failing government health care system. Outcomes were of little concern, and spending was out-of-control. Hundreds of thousands were on the rolls whose continuing eligibility had not been verified. Under the old way, rooting out fraud and waste was less important than growing programs and throwing tax dollars at problems.

We took a better approach. We sought, and found, solutions that work. We saved the health care safety net by making responsible decisions to focus on the neediest Missourians. We have increased health care spending. And last year, we strengthened the safety net by creating Missouri Health Net.

Unlike the old system, Health Net is about results. The old system treated people like numbers. Health Net treats people as valued patients. Health Net empowers participants through personalized care in a health care home, and, for the first time in Missouri history, guarantees access to primary and preventative care. We should always remember that the best solutions are not government mandates or bigger government programs. Telling a patient, "the bureaucrat will see you now" would be a cure worse than the sickness. Impersonal government-run health care is bad for Missouri families, bad for Missouri doctors, and bad for taxpayers.

I believe in solutions that put Missouri families in greater control of their own lives.

Last fall, I announced the creation of INSURE MISSOURI, to make health insurance more affordable for working Missourians, by relying on the proven Missouri values of work, personal responsibility, and free enterprise.

WORK – Missourians believe in work. We want to help those who are trying to help themselves and their children. INSURE MISSOURI meets the test of rewarding work.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY – INSURE MISSOURI is no handout. Sharing in the cost provides people with the esteem that comes with ownership.

FREE ENTERPRISE – INSURE MISSOURI is not a government program in constant danger of massive waste and cost overruns. Unlike proposals that want to go back in time, INSURE MISSOURI comes without a tax hike. It takes existing resources and helps Missourians buy their own personal health insurance, at an affordable price.

Starting next month, more than 54,000 Missourians can gain immediate access to affordable, high quality care.

Those covered will have incomes below the federal poverty line. Co-payments will be no more than three dollars per visit.

This summer, access to coverage will move above federal poverty. Missourians will make contributions based on income. My budget will help an additional 56,000 Missourians buy their own personal health insurance.

Once fully implemented, INSURE MISSOURI will offer access to care for nearly 200,000 Missourians. This new direction has us on the path to affordable coverage for all.

AUTISM

My budget also includes a substantial increase for autism funding. Last year, we provided 3.9 million dollars to shorten the waiting lists for families seeking services for early intervention and diagnoses of autism and to fund pilot projects to determine best practices in treating children with autism. This year, I recommend 6.4 million dollars to further reduce the waiting list, one million dollars for projects designed to expand treatment and services, and 5 million dollars for the Thompson Center in Columbia, a world-class treatment and research facility we will help build right here in central Missouri. Combined, this funding will improve the lives of Missouri families struggling to overcome autism.

PROTECTING MISSOURI VALUES

We have also championed the values that define who we are as a people. Since January of 2005, we have enacted new laws to reflect our profound respect for the inherent dignity of each and every life.

This year, we must take further steps. I believe the vast majority of Missourians agree that we should do all we can to encourage young parents to choose life. That is why my budget again includes increased funding for the Alternatives to Abortion program.

It is also why I support legislation to strengthen Missouri's informed consent laws. We have a moral obligation to protect Missouri women and defend the dignity of human life. We must ensure that expectant mothers have all the information they need to make fully-informed decisions, including the right to view an ultrasound of their child. As any parent can tell you, there is nothing so powerful as that first glimpse of your child. It enhances early bonding and it will encourage expectant parents to choose life.

HONORING OUR MILITARY HEROES

From Bunker Hill to Baghdad, Missouri veterans have served for freedom and country rather than personal glory, and for that, they deserve our esteem, respect, and gratitude.

War takes an incredible toll on our warriors and their families. They have earned a hero's welcome, and any help we can provide to aid their transition to civilian life. This year, I recommend 2.5 million in new funding for veteran's mental health and sheltering services. The funds will be used to ensure that our returning Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, and Marines have the care they need as they return to civilian life.

Last year, we cut taxes for all Missourians who purchase health insurance. We cut taxes to protect family-supporting manufacturing jobs. And we passed legislation to end state income taxes on Social Security benefits. This year, I propose a fourth major tax cut. I urge the General Assembly to honor our veterans and eliminate all state income taxes on military retirement benefits.

Tonight, we are joined by a Missourian who will benefit from that tax relief, Chief Warrant Officer Rodney Hughes, a veteran of the War on Terror. Chief Warrant Officer Hughes has 25 years of unbroken service in the Missouri National Guard, including one year in Iraq. He is here tonight as a representative of an estimated 50,000 Missourians who have served our country in the Global War on Terror, and hundreds of thousands of Missourians who have served in the past. Chief Warrant Officer Hughes, we salute you, and all of your fellow warriors.

AGRICULTURE AND RENEWABLE FUELS

My administration has fully returned to the Missouri tradition of encouraging agriculture, helping Missouri family farmers realize proper reward for their toil on the land.

Every year, America spends billions of dollars on foreign oil from anti-American suppliers. Ethanol and biodiesel can and should be used to break this reliance on foreign oil and protect our environment. I believe we would all prefer to fuel our cars with renewable fuel grown by a Midwestern farmer rather than oil from a Middle Eastern dictator.

We have encouraged the production of ethanol to help America move toward environmentally-friendly energy independence. Earlier this month, we became just the third state to implement a renewable fuels standard, increasing the use of ethanol in Missouri. In each of the past three years, I have recommended full funding for ethanol and bio-diesel incentives, and I do so again tonight.

To further grow alternative fuel production, I support a B5 standard for diesel fuel sold in our state. Biodiesel from soybeans has proven much more environmentally-friendly and better for air quality than regular diesel. Research has shown that it cuts carbon dioxide and cancer-causing emissions by more than 75 percent. Adopting a B5 standard will reduce carbon monoxide emissions by 168 million pounds. A B5 standard will improve our air quality and makes sense for Missouri.

PRESERVING OUR ENVIRONMENT

We have a moral obligation to protect our environment. We seek long-term solutions.

Last year, we passed the Hunting Heritage Act to protect thousands of acres of ecologically-diverse flood plain from taxpayer-financed development.

We also passed the Green Power Initiative so that, by 2020, 11 percent of the energy used in our state will be produced from renewable sources. This year, I support incentives for the construction of alternative fuel pumps, for the purchase of environmentally-friendly hybrid vehicles, and for the purchase of cleaner burning alternative fuels.

Of course, there are two sides to the energy equation. We can get our energy from greener sources. And we can also improve energy efficiency. I started an energy efficiency initiative within state government to save taxpayer money and improve Missouri's environment. For example, in Jefferson City, previously wasted energy from a landfill will heat an entire prison. In total, efficiency and innovation will save

Missouri taxpayers more than 15 million dollars per year and help protect our environment.

To build on that success, this budget includes 400,000 dollars for energy audits outside of state government. We will provide 100,000 dollars for voluntary audits to help small businesses save money and energy, and 300,000 dollars to conduct audits of municipal water systems, amongst our largest users of electricity. These audits will help identify inefficiencies – helping to save energy, lower costs, and improve Missouri’s environment.

To reward efficiency by consumers, I support legislation creating a week-long “SHOW-ME GREEN” tax holiday to eliminate sales taxes on Energy-Star certified efficient appliances. This will give Missouri consumers an additional incentive to buy energy efficient products – saving energy, saving money, and preserving our environment.

SAFE AND MODERN TRANSPORTATION

Before I took office, our state highways and bridges were crumbling. Over 87 percent of Missouri’s roads were in less than good condition. Today, 74 percent of Missouri highways are in good condition and Missouri roads are safer. Last year, Missouri led the nation in improved highway safety. Traffic fatalities are down about 15 percent since 2005. This dramatic turnaround fuels job creation, supports tourism and ensures that Missouri families have the transportation system they need and deserve.

PROTECTING THE SAFETY AND SECURITY OF MISSOURIANS

It is a fundamental duty of government to protect the life and property of its citizens, especially Missouri children. At my recommendation, you passed one of America’s strongest versions of Jessica’s Law to ensure that dangerous sexual predators spend at least 30 years in prison and are monitored for their entire life if they ever get out. We also created the Cyber Crime Task Forces grant program so that law enforcement can catch predators before they harm a Missouri child. My budget includes another increase for the Task Forces, bringing total funding to 1.5 million dollars.

I also urge you to improve the state’s sex offender registry by requiring sex offenders to add their e-mail addresses to their profiles.

Violent sex crimes against children are unspeakably evil. Any criminal that rapes a Missouri child deserves the most serious punishment we can deliver. I urge you to make the rape of a Missouri child punishable by death.

We have taken dramatic steps to protect Missourians from methamphetamine – and they are working. I have already signed landmark legislation making it far more difficult to get the raw materials to make meth. Since our state law went into effect, meth incidents have declined by forty percent. This year, I recommend nearly 1 million dollars for a new system to better alert law enforcement to potential abuses. I also request 1.8 million dollars in supplemental funding to help Missouri sheriffs continue their good work to keep meth off our streets and put meth dealers behind bars.

COMBATTING ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION

A just society must rest on the rule of law and respect for the police and courts. Illegal immigration makes a travesty of the rule of law. It undermines wages for Missourians. It imposes huge costs on taxpayers for public services.

Those who favor an open border and welfare benefits for illegal immigrants say that Missouri “doesn’t have a problem” with illegal immigration. Tell that to skilled carpenters or electricians who cannot get work because illegals are being exploited and doing the job for a pittance. Tell it to Missouri taxpayers who subsidize services for those who broke the law to come here. Disrespect for the law is always a serious social problem.

As in generations past, Missourians welcome legal immigrants and want to help them assimilate into our society. That is why I renew my endorsement of English as the official language. I support this because I wish to include all in the full promise of the American life. English is the language of opportunity. As legal residents learn it, they open new doors, leading to greater freedom and prosperity.

But while we open our hearts to those here LEGALLY, we must reserve a firm hand for those who break our laws.

Washington, unfortunately, has failed to secure our borders. Open borders and amnesty are unacceptable. Washington’s failure means states must do more and Missouri is taking the lead.

For example, I directed the Highway Patrol to verify the immigration status of every person booked into jail. Since my directive, 138 illegal immigrants have found out the hard way that crime does not pay. To build on these gains, we have applied for federal approval that deputizes state law enforcement to enforce federal immigration law.

Working with federal authorities, we helped bust and disqualify a state contractor for using illegal workers. I have a simple rule. If a contractor uses illegal labor, they will not do business with Missouri taxpayers.

I urge you to place my directives in statute and pass a number of important legislative initiatives.

I urge you to create new penalties for aiding an illegal in obtaining a license by fraud; and to specifically prohibit illegals from having a Missouri driver's license.

I ask that you forbid local governments from hampering law enforcement efforts to help enforce immigration law. Missouri should have no "sanctuary cities."

To stop the use of illegal labor and to protect illegal immigrants from exploitation, I support a new law making it a crime to transport any illegal immigrant for exploitive purposes, including illegal labor.

To protect taxpayers, I urge legislation that requires public agencies verify the legal status of applicants before providing welfare benefits.

Missourians know what needs to happen. Turn OFF the magnets that help attract mass illegal immigration.

Finally, I urge you to require stronger employment verification; to punish those who knowingly hire illegals; and to protect from undue penalty those whose failures occur in good faith.

Again: Turn OFF the magnets, end the easy hiring of illegals, and stop undermining American wages.

Missouri is already taking some of the strongest steps in the United States to curb illegal immigration, but we can and should be doing more. Missourians should know that I will do everything I can to combat illegal immigration – to protect their safety, to defend their hard-earned tax dollars, to protect their jobs, and to enforce the rule of law.

CHANGE THAT IS WORKING

When the old way failed the people, Missourians issued their mandate for a new direction.

We took a wrecked state budget and delivered consecutive surpluses.

We took a job climate that was causing entrepreneurs and employers to flee our state and turned it into a climate welcoming new jobs – nearly 90,000 in just three years.

We reduced taxes for Missouri seniors and every Missouri family that spends money on health insurance.

We took a health care system that resulted in poor health for patients and reckless spending for Missouri taxpayers, and replaced it with a better system, one that delivers better care, improves the quality of life for participants, and is sustainable for Missouri taxpayers. Now, for the first time, we will help working families afford their own coverage. And again, I will not rest until every Missourian has access to affordable health care.

We took an education system that all-too-often found itself fighting tooth-and-nail for funding and made it our highest budget priority. We will deliver more than 1.2 billion dollars in new funding, and we will quadruple scholarships to help well more than 36,000 deserving Missouri students.

What we are doing is passing the ultimate Missouri test. It is working. It is working for Missouri families.

Our task is to make what is good, even better. We must aspire for even greater prosperity, opportunity, and freedom. We must never stand still. America is the most dynamic society in human history. We must combine tested and proven values with innovation and the common wisdom of the people, to honor Missouri's motto: that the welfare of the people shall be the supreme law.

May God bless each of you, and may God continue to bless our great and wonderful state.

And so we ask that You assist us in all we do which is required of us to ensure justice for all Your people and love kindness in all our interactions with one another and be about those who need help and that we find time to walk quietly and humbly with You in our meditation and devotions. The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Laura Denvir Stith, escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where she delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

2008 STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

CHIEF JUSTICE LAURA DENVIR STITH

President Kinder, President Pro Tem Gibbons, Speaker Pro Tem Pratt, statewide elected officials, members of the General Assembly, members of the cabinet, my fellow Supreme Court judges, honored guests and fellow citizens:

Thank you for your warm welcome. I am truly honored to be here. When I began my legal career nearly 30 years ago as a Supreme Court law clerk, I had no idea that one day I would have the opportunity to come before this honored assembly, as the state's second female chief justice, to deliver Missouri's 35th state of the judiciary address.

When I began my career, there were no female appellate or Supreme Court judges in Missouri and very few elsewhere. But now, for the first time in Missouri's history, we have three women on the Supreme Court. I thank Governor Matt Blunt for his appointment of Judge Patricia Breckenridge to the Court.

Courts and judges make a positive impact on Missouri's communities

Like many of you, Judge Breckenridge is a true public servant. Over the past nine years, she has mentored five Kansas City children who, under her guidance, have become thriving teenagers looking forward to a promising future. Such efforts are the norm in the judiciary. Just a few weeks ago, for example, the judges and staff of the Western District appeals court finished a food drive that will feed nearly 400 needy families in the Kansas City area.

I tell you about these activities for two reasons. First, we are proud of the community involvement and personal contributions of our judges. Second, a review of these activities affirms that, just as you legislators are well-known for your civic participation at all levels, so too are the vast majority of our judges. They are in the same civic groups as you; they work to make a difference in their communities, like you; and, like you, judges and court staff make a positive impact on their communities through the performance of their official duties.

Just last month, for example, Jackson County received national honors for its family court probation and aftercare services. This program has reduced the recidivism rate drastically; now only 4 percent of its youth are referred back to the family court within six months.

Across the state, in the city of St. Louis, Judge Jimmie Edwards has reorganized the juvenile court so effectively that most felony offenses are processed within five weeks and misdemeanors within two weeks. This gets juvenile offenders off the streets, out of detention centers and into rehabilitative services sooner. It also has reduced the city's juvenile detention population by about a third, saving precious resources.

Judge Mary Sheffield and the 25th circuit in south-central Missouri – along with Judge Rick Zerr and the 11th circuit in St. Charles County – are piloting what we hope will become a statewide model for family courts. This enhanced "unified family court" system assigns a single judge to a particular family, which diminishes the likelihood of fragmented and inconsistent court results and reduces the time families have to spend in court. This new unified family court system will make a real difference in the lives of your constituents.

Drug courts are important for Missourians

Programs like these demonstrate how hard-working court professionals can turn around young lives and keep families together. Drug courts, also, are helping urban and rural communities throughout the state reap similar benefits. Since they were established in Missouri 15 years ago through bipartisan efforts, our drug courts have graduated more than 6,200 individuals. An incredible 90 percent of these never return to our criminal justice system! I thank my colleague, Judge Ray Price, for his instrumental role in the development and oversight of these courts as chairman of Missouri's statewide drug court commission. In fact, the reason he is unable to be with us today is that he is in Washington, D.C., attending a board meeting of the National Association of Drug Court Professionals.

I encourage all of you to attend a local drug court graduation – it's an amazing experience. In Stone County, for example, one graduate went from having no place to live, no relationship with his two sons, no job and spending his time committing crimes and his money on drugs to having a solid marriage, running a masonry business and coaching his son's football team.

His story is echoed in the experiences of many of our drug court graduates. We have a number of recent graduates here today, along with some of our drug court staff and judges, and I invite them to stand and be recognized for their achievements.

These are the types of outcomes that timely and effective court intervention creates all across Missouri. Keeping offenders out of prison allows them to remain in the workforce and their families to stay intact. In fact, our juvenile courts have been able to place 120 children back in their natural homes after a parent graduated from drug court. The success of our drug courts even affects the next generation of Missourians, as more than 325 drug-free babies have been born to female drug-court participants! And as I'm sure you are aware, protecting our unborn children from the ravages of drugs saves the state literally tens of thousands of dollars per child and gives every child a chance at a better life.

Alcohol abuse, like drug abuse, can ruin lives. Missouri has had the foresight to establish DWI courts as part of its drug court programs. The Greene County DWI court recently was one of only four such courts nationwide to be honored as a model court for its work in turning around repeat DWI offenders. Of its 143 graduates since 2003, only four have been convicted of subsequent DWIs.

As the Springfield News-Leader recently noted, expanded funding of the proven, cost-effective services offered by such courts will reduce the impact of substance abuse in Missouri. At any given time, our 108 drug courts are working with more than 3,200 offenders – that's approximately equal to the population of two state prisons Missouri has not had to build. This money-saving investment in our drug courts really is an investment in a positive future for Missourians. And all drug court funds go directly to treatment services for your constituents in your communities.

Courts have a positive impact on the state's economy

These are only a few of the many positive effects of Missouri's courts. The next time you visit your local courthouse, I encourage you to meet the skilled court professionals working there. Nearly half of the judiciary's general revenue budget pays for these court clerks, court reporters, juvenile officers and other vital court staff. These are your constituents, and they serve your constituents every day.

Investing in these people makes fiscal sense, too, because Missouri's courts help buoy the state economy. At an annual cost of slightly more than $164 million in general revenue, our courts last year produced a positive economic impact of more than twice that amount – approximately $395 million in damages, offsets, fines, fees and costs. Much of that money went to local schools and county governments and other government funds. In other words, we courts do our share in contributing to the state's bottom line.

We are managing the courts' resources more efficiently

Part of doing our share also means managing court resources as efficiently as possible. Before last year, the courts had only incomplete information to give in response to legislative inquiries whether additional judges were needed and, if so, where. To assist you better, we asked the nation's expert in judicial weighted workloads to study our trial courts. Its results show we need more judges. We are not asking you, however, to fund all the additional judges now – we know this is not the right time.

But the study shows where the need for additional judges is the most urgent, where justice for citizens may be delayed as a result of such shortages – including Greene, Jackson, St. Charles and St. Louis counties, among others. Armed with the facts and figures this study provides, you will be well-equipped to make informed decisions about where it is most critical to add judges throughout the state, as funds become available.

In the meantime, we are taking proactive steps, based on information in the study, to use our judicial resources more wisely. As one example, we are initiating improvements in our judge transfer program. Judges sometimes are transferred into another circuit to help cover for an illness or other temporary absence, but many other transfers help overburdened courts handle their dockets on a routine and continuing basis. For instance, in the 26th circuit in the Lake of the Ozarks area, three judges suffered lengthy illnesses, and two of them eventually died, leaving that circuit shorthanded and unable to meet the needs of its growing population. To resolve this problem, we transferred in senior judges on a long-term basis, allowing civil trials to proceed and greatly expediting all cases.

Of course, the area soon may need another judge – Presiding Judge Greg Kays was one of two Missouri judges whom President George Bush recently nominated to become a federal district court judge. He is a fine judge and an outstanding individual. In fact, Judge Kays was honored by both the Highway Patrol and the Supreme Court for his selfless service in helping to save the life of his wilderness guide during a 2005 fishing expedition near the Arctic Circle. Judge Kays, will you please stand?

We hope the judicial weighted workload study will help us avoid future crises like the one in the 26th circuit. Instead of the chief justice managing transfers, we are instituting a "judicial partnership program" pairing circuits that need extra judges with other circuits in the region whose judges have time to help. As this new program gets underway, we are focusing on the circuits with the most critical need first and will follow up with additional partnerships over the next year.

We must fix the criminal justice system

But, as newspapers in Springfield and St. Louis noted last month, adding more judges will not end the problems we are seeing in our criminal justice system. Even if we had more judges, we still would need more public defenders and prosecutors because, not enough attorneys are available to try all the pending criminal cases, resulting in lengthy pretrial incarcerations. This is a critical problem in every jurisdiction in the state but most acutely so in our urban areas, where the criminal justice system is on the brink of a shutdown and basic constitutional rights are in jeopardy.

It benefits the public, the victims of crime, witnesses and the entire justice system if these cases are processed in a reasonable time; in fact, the constitution requires it. We are pleased to hear the state's budget analysts predict a surplus will be available this year to meet some of the state's most critical needs. Few could be more critical than in the criminal justice system, where we are on the verge of risking release of some prisoners for failure to give them a speedy trial because there simply is no public defender available to advocate on their behalf. I cannot emphasize enough the urgency of this crisis and ask you to give the utmost consideration to the public defender's budget request.

Missouri cannot afford to let this continue. We thank those of you who have been working on this problem and we urge you to intensify your efforts at solving this critical flaw, one that reaches even beyond the criminal justice system. As shown by the 26th circuit's experience, backlogs in criminal cases can translate into delays for our civil litigants as well. This has not gone unnoticed by our business community. Business leaders tell us that they have no desire to operate in a state unless it has a fair and impartial court system that moves cases efficiently. Businesses are in litigation every day, all over the country, and the prompt resolution of their cases helps our economy to remain strong and to move forward.

Improving court technology enhances public safety and public access

Ensuring access to Missouri's courts extends beyond the courthouse walls, so we have strived to improve our online legal resources also. I am proud that the Supreme Court now offers streaming audio of its oral arguments so all members of the public can listen to them as they occur.

I also am pleased to announce that our electronic case management system will be complete statewide with the addition of Greene County this spring. Why does this matter? Well, by integrating technology into our court services, we are better able to meet your constituents' expectations about making all of government operate more efficiently. Because of its court technology, Missouri is the first state in the nation that allows the courts, the schools and state executive branch agencies that serve youth, to share juvenile case information through a secure, statewide system. And Missouri's court technology ensures that law enforcement agencies receive orders of protection within a few minutes of their entry and that the Highway Patrol more quickly can receive thousands of convictions and mental incapacity determinations.

We also are proud of our nationally recognized Case.net system, which lets you and your constituents access statewide adult case information around the clock through our Web site. Case.net is purely a Missouri product: It was designed by Missouri court technology staff, with input from courts and citizens throughout the state, and it is something of which we all should be proud.

The technology you have helped us build now positions us to take the next step for Missouri's citizens. With your support for our budget request to pilot electronic filing, we can begin providing Missourians electronic access to their court documents, increasing transparency of the courts for less money. E-filing also will be more efficient. It will enable litigants and lawyers to obtain court files and specific documents from their homes or offices any time of day. And it will enhance public safety by giving judges, court personnel and law enforcement officers round-the-clock access to case information. This will be an important step forward for everyone.

The advances we've made would not have been possible without your investments in court technology, because modern computer systems provide the foundation for information sharing and access. We thank you, and we ask for your continued support to enable Missouri's courts to provide the kind of service our citizens expect in the 21st century.

The nonpartisan plan for selecting judges on merit continues to work

I'll spend the remainder of my comments addressing something many of you have asked me about – the nonpartisan court plan. In fact, your enhanced interest gave me the privilege of being the first chief justice in recent memory to be invited to speak with a legislative committee even before the state of the judiciary. I was thankful for that opportunity.

As I noted then, I believe that in the nearly three-quarters of a century since its adoption, Missouri's nonpartisan merit-selection court plan has worked well in attracting high-quality judges in the least political way and in ultimately giving Missouri's voters – not lawyers, not the governor, not the legislature and not the Supreme Court – the final say. This renowned method of judicial selection – what some have called "Missouri's gift to the art of governance" – should be treasured.

Most Missourians agree. In a poll of 600 Missourians recently conducted by Public Opinion Strategies, the majority opposed replacing the plan, either with partisan judicial elections – in which judges raise literally millions, if not tens of millions, of dollars to keep their office – or with a federal-type system in which judges are hand-picked by the governor and confirmed by the senate.

The process the Appellate Judicial Commission followed in filling Judge Ronnie White's vacancy on the Supreme Court was the same process that the same seven commissioners followed to fill the five additional appellate vacancies this year. This process became part of Missouri's structure of government in 1940, when a group of mostly Republican legislators and civic leaders, including my colleague Steve Limbaugh's grandfather, "the original" Rush Limbaugh, successfully led a citizen initiative to end partisan control of the judiciary. The only significant change made since then came in 1978, when citizens – to minimize further the influence of partisan politics in our judicial system – eliminated the governor's ability to force the nonpartisan commissions to nominate additional panels for the same vacancy.

In the end, the process has worked essentially the same way for all those years. It is a neutral, even-handed process that blends the best features of merit screening, executive branch appointment and voter participation in judicial selection while preserving the public's confidence in fair and impartial courts. And it is the process that led to the selection of fine jurists such as John Holstein, Ann Covington, Charles Blackmar, Andrew Jackson Higgins, Joseph Simeone, J.P. Morgan and my own mentors – Robert Seiler and Elwood Thomas – to name but a few.

We are further opening the nonpartisan selection process

Pride in these and other fine judges appointed under the Missouri plan no doubt has played an important role in the rejection of prior attempts to dismantle the plan or allow it to become subject to expensive fundraising efforts, special interest influence or shifting political winds. As Missourians always have recognized, this is not a Democratic or Republican issue – it is a matter of good government.

But does that mean I think that we have implemented the plan perfectly? As I told the Senate Rules Committee last fall, actually, I don't – and those of us on the Supreme Court are working to improve its operation in two significant ways.

The first involves giving even more information to the media and the public. The nonpartisan plan process already makes more information public than what is shared in any other area of state government. Under the plan, the public learns who the three finalists are for positions on Missouri's nonpartisan courts so they can offer comment to the governor. For most other appointed positions in government, including the directors of executive branch agencies and the legislative leadership, all the public learns is the name of the person finally selected.

That said, the Supreme Court has listened to the public and the media and plans to open up the process even more. Beginning later this month, the Court will require commissions to announce the time, date and location of their meetings and to provide demographic information about the applicant pool prior to those meetings. Once the three finalists are determined, the commissions will be required to make public the three nominees' applications – with private information redacted, of course.

We plan to enhance public involvement in the process of rating and retaining nonpartisan judges

The second area designated for improvement is the retention election process. The Supreme Court is working to make sure that Missouri's citizens have more, and better, access to information about the performance of their judges when they exercise their right to have the final say on whether judges should remain in office.

In 2006, The Missouri Bar spent more than $100,000 to conduct evaluations of nonpartisan judges and distribute the results to the public – by holding news conferences, distributing evaluations to the media, putting the results online, sending them to organizations such as the chambers of commerce – the Bar even made them available in libraries and supermarkets. We commend the Bar for its many efforts, but we can do even more for Missourians.

We want citizens to have ready information about the performance of their judges so they can make fully informed decisions when they exercise their right to vote. Ideally, Missouri would follow Arizona's lead and appropriate a million dollars each election cycle so the secretary of state can print and mail to each voter in the state a pamphlet summarizing and evaluating the qualifications and performance of each judge up for retention.

But we are not standing still just because full funding for these efforts is not available. As a member of the national Conference of Chief Justices, I am helping to draft a resolution – which we will vote on this summer – to support federal legislation allowing this type of voter guide to be distributed postage-free. If successful, this could reduce the cost of the pamphlets by up to one-third. I ask each of you to voice your support for this type of legislative proposal to your counterparts in Congress. Together, we can make a difference.

The Supreme Court also is requiring the creation of judicial performance committees to use objective standards to conduct in-depth evaluations of nonpartisan judges seeking retention. These performance committees, composed of an equal number of lay persons and lawyers, will release their evaluation summaries and will recommend whether a nonpartisan judge should be retained. The bottom line recommendations, and directions to a Web site with detailed evaluation information, will be made available in a concise voter information pamphlet – the type of pamphlet we hope one day to be able to send to all the voters.

Each of these proposals is feasible. None require any state funding or any new legislation; all are within the scope of the Supreme Court's constitutional authority over the judiciary. We look forward to the public's feedback about the improved retention evaluation system and to any other creative suggestions they may have for additional enhancements.

In conclusion, all the things I have talked about this morning merely help us accomplish our mission of providing fair and impartial justice in the nearly 1 million cases that come before our state's courts each year. We take every one of these cases very seriously, because we know that each one is the most important case in the world to the people involved.

While we judges often are struck by the weight of this responsibility, and while we may agonize about doing what the facts and the law of a particular case require, this responsibility is part of what we cherish most about our role in the court system. In the end, we are honored to be public servants, just like you.

As most of you know, one of Missouri's fine nonpartisan judges – my colleague Steve Limbaugh – recently was nominated by President Bush to become a federal district court judge. Steve is the epitome of a public servant. His life in public service – first as a prosecutor in Cape Girardeau County, then as a circuit judge there and, since 1992, as a Supreme Court judge – has been shaped by the examples of civility, courtesy and professionalism that Steve's grandfather and father set for him. He has been a real mentor for me on the Court, and I will greatly miss his sharp intellect, his insight, his wit and his camaraderie.

But I know Judge Limbaugh is eager to bring that same wisdom to the federal bench. When he does so, he will become the latest in a long series of Missouri nonpartisan plan judges who had such merit that they were nominated to join the federal bench, including Duane Benton and Theodore McMillian on the 8th Circuit appeals court as well as Henry Autrey, Gary Fenner, Fernando Gaitan, George Gunn, Jean Hamilton and Elmo Hunter on the district court bench, to name but a few.

We know Judge Limbaugh and Judge Kays, like their predecessors, will make Missouri proud. Thank you.

And thanks to all of you.

On motion of Senator Shields, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Scott.

The Director of Transportation, Pete Rahn, assumed the dais and delivered the State of Transportation Address to the Joint Assembly:

Pete Rahn
State of Transportation Address
February 6, 2008

Lt. Governor, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Members of the 94th General Assembly, Members of the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission and Citizens of Missouri:

The road to credibility is a long one. The road to discredit is not. Credibility takes a long time to build, but it can be torn down in a matter of seconds.

The road to credibility is paved with openness and honesty; dedication and hard work; success and commitments met; an innovative spirit and efficient approaches. This journey takes years to travel.

Discredit can come from one misstep. One poor decision. One catastrophic event handled poorly. It is less a journey than a trap door that sends an organization's reputation plummeting.

In 2003, many Missourians including the General Assembly believed that the trap door had fallen out from under the Missouri Department of Transportation. That is when this speech was created to increase our accountability.

A law requiring the director of MoDOT to report annually from this dais mandated a level of scrutiny, a level of accountability never before applied to a state agency. We have taken this responsibility seriously and have endeavored to present an enlightening report each year.

The first address was given in 2004 with a promise that a new day had dawned at MoDOT. In 2005, I reiterated that pledge and further promised that we would be a model for what today's state government should be - efficient, streamlined, forward thinking, results-driven and customer-oriented.

We have worked hard to become that kind of agency. Our focus has been on delivering results. Rebuilding trust. Demonstrating to you that we are an organization worthy of your support. Each year, during this address, I have reported to you regarding our progress toward these goals. Our progress along the road to credibility.

The State of Transportation Address was created five years ago with a five-year sunset clause. Dramatic improvement was expected or the General Assembly could extend this accountability measure beyond five years. With that in mind, I am proud to say this is the fifth and final State of Transportation Address!

I believe the elimination of this speech sends a clear signal that MoDOT has regained its footing and your trust. Five years ago we faced uncertainty, but today there is no doubt - we've come a long way in a short time. A long way down the road to credibility.

Today, I am happy to report that we have reached our destination. Perceptions have changed and it is now a reality -- the state of transportation in Missouri is strong and the state of your department of transportation is even stronger. We have regained our credibility and then some. The proof is in the results. Just look how far we have come.

The result that motivates us everyday is the safety of our citizens. We have gone from a state where an obscene number of our family, friends and neighbors were dying on our roadways to a state that leads the nation in reducing traffic fatalities.

In 2006, there were 868 fewer deaths on America's roadways. Missouri accounted for 161 of those lives saved. That means that a state that makes up less than 2 percent of the nation's population accounted for 19 percent of lives saved on America's roads. We led the nation in lives saved. That is proof of how far we've come.

In 2007, the great news continued. Together with the Highway Patrol, the Missouri Coalition for Roadway Safety and highway safety advocates throughout our state, we experienced 118 fewer deaths on our roads.

That reduction in fatalities put us below 1,000 for the first time since 1993, which met the goal of the Coalition for Roadway Safety a full year early.

Our work, however, is not finished. We have come a long way in reducing deaths on our roadways. We could have saved even more lives with a primary safety belt law - 90 more lives this last year alone.

Additionally, while highway fatalities are down overall, deaths among motorcyclists are up. We must have a renewed focus on motorcycle safety and I urge you to never add to these deaths by repealing Missouri's helmet law.

We must also ensure that law enforcement officers have the tools they need to help keep our roads safe. I commend Sen. Ryan McKenna for proposing a dedicated revenue stream for the Highway Patrol that will mean more funding for law enforcement and more lives saved on Missouri's roadways.

We have come a long way decreasing fatalities and part of the reason is that Missouri's roads have gotten smoother and safer -- soon.

In 2006, we delivered 2,200 miles of smoother, safer roads a full year ahead of schedule. We are now building on that success with our Better Roads, Brighter Future initiative which will result in 5,600 miles of major roads with smooth pavement; brighter, wider striping; larger signs; rumble stripes; and, in most cases, a minimum four-foot paved shoulder all by 2012.

With just one year of Better Roads, Brighter Future completed, 78 percent of our major roads are now in good condition as compared to 44 percent just five years ago. That is progress that benefits all of us. That is an example of how far we've come.

The vast improvement of our highway system has gained national attention. The respected Reason Foundation released a report in 2007 analyzing the overall performance of every state's highway system.

Missouri climbed from 39th to 17th between 2000 and 2005 including an eleven-spot jump from 2004 to 2005 - the second biggest improvement in the country. And that was prior to the full effects of the Smooth Roads Initiative or any of the positive improvements through Better Roads, Brighter Future, which will undoubtedly move us up the rankings in future years.

The Reason Report also cited MoDOT's low administrative costs, making up only two percent of our budget, as playing a key role in the performance of our highway system. Missouri was listed as having the third lowest administrative costs per mile of any state in the nation. Our performance is being recognized nationally and is improving everyday. That is proof of how far we've come!

We are delivering significant results for the people of Missouri and we are saving them significant money while we do it.

Construction contracts awarded in Fiscal Year 2007 came in 7.4 percent under budget. That was a 90 million dollar savings - 90 million dollars more for road and bridge improvements. For Fiscal Year 2008, so far we are at 114 million dollars or 14 percent under budget.

Additionally, all projects in our five-year plan that were sped up due to Amendment 3 funding have been awarded to a contractor. With 100 percent of these projects under contract, we came in at four percent under budget. That is even more savings for even more highway improvements. That is an example of how far we've come!

But, construction is not the only place we are saving money. We have reduced workers compensation costs seven million dollars. That savings comes from an unwavering emphasis on worker safety that delivered a 69 percent reduction in lost work days, which also means MoDOT employees are more productive and are accomplishing more for Missourians.

By reducing costs. By spending taxpayer money wisely. We are getting the best value for every dollar spent and we are able to think big when it comes to delivering transportation "wow" to the people of Missouri.

"Wow" was not the word that passed the lips of people in St. Louis when they found out we would be closing separate five-mile sections of Interstate 64 each of the next two years. I can't repeat many of those words here.

We closed the first five miles in the heart of the St. Louis region on January 2. Prior to the closure, headlines screamed predictions like "Apocalypse Now!" and "Traffic Nightmare!"

We, along with Gateway Contractors, St. Louis County, the city of St. Louis and the Highway Patrol, did everything in our power to keep those prophecies from becoming realities. We also provided a three million dollar incentive to Metro to increase ridership.

The people listened and, to their credit, the headlines immediately after the closure read "So far, so good," "Region's traffic nightmare a no-show," "Preparation Pays Off," and "Closure Off to Smooth Start." Commuters have adjusted their habits and have helped the region avoid its predicted traffic nightmare.

I particularly appreciated a letter from Representative Scott Muschany in which he states, "The smoothness of the entire project to date is a great testimony to your department's planning and regional leadership. The old MoDOT could not have pulled this off five years ago."

To further demonstrate the success of the project, the presidents' of Civic Progress, the Regional Chamber and Growth Association and the Regional Business Council jointly said in a letter "We look forward to more projects designed and managed by MoDOT, working together in making the region a more attractive place for business and continually improving economic opportunity and prosperity."

In 2010, St. Louis will enjoy ten miles of new, smooth pavement; 30 new, safer and more attractive bridges; and a new, safer high-speed interchange at Interstate 170. All of these improvements will be completed in three years instead of seven. That is real progress in our largest Metropolitan area. That is the biggest highway project in Missouri history. That shows how far we've come!

While the predicted crisis on I-64 didn't happen, we did have to respond to a real crisis right here in Jefferson City on November 27, 2007. We knew we had to act fast when an 8,000-gallon fuel tanker overturned and exploded on Highway 54 causing extensive damage to the Jefferson Street Overpass.

Within days, a complete replacement of the overpass was under contract. Working through snow, ice and extremely cold weather MoDOT employees and contractor Pace Construction tore down, rebuilt and reopened the overpass in just 37 days. Normally, this project would have taken months under the best conditions. That shows what we can do. That shows how far we've come!

The I-64 and Jefferson Street Overpass Teams are here today. Lesley Hoffarth and Tom Blair of MoDOT, Charlie Dooley and Garry Earls from St. Louis County, Captain Ron Johnson of the Highway Patrol and Ray Friem from Metro, as well as the Jefferson Street Overpass Team of Christopher Graham, Bryan Hartnagel and Jay Bestgen are in the gallery. I ask that they all stand and be recognized.

Bridges were certainly a major concern for motorists in 2007. The collapse of the Interstate 35 Bridge in Minneapolis directed renewed attention to the need for reliable transportation infrastructure and, particularly, bridge safety. We acted immediately to inspect all bridges similar in design to the one in Minnesota and to ensure their safety.

It is imperative, though, that we take major action to address a vast number of bridges quickly. With over 10,000 bridges, Missouri has the seventh most of any state in the union. We face a crisis as more than 1,000 are structurally in serious condition. Many are one step away from being closed.

That is why we initiated our Safe and Sound Bridge Improvement Program. 802 of our worst bridges will be repaired or replaced by 2013. I thank Gov. Blunt for calling a special session and the General Assembly for passing legislation to make sure this vital initiative moves forward.

In the aftermath of the Minneapolis bridge collapse, the nation was looking for answers and many eyes turned to the Show-Me State. Headlines nationally and internationally pointed to Missouri's innovative Safe and Sound Bridge initiative as a possible model for the entire nation.

Members of Congress took note and are watching our progress closely to see how it can be applied elsewhere. Even the Secretary of the United States Department of Transportation Mary Peters said that the Safe and Sound Bridge Program is "....attracting national attention for its especially creative approach...."

As of today, we are in the final stages of negotiations with Missouri Bridge Partners trying to bring this program to fruition.

While Safe and Sound will fix more than 800 bridges, it will not address our large river bridges that span more than 1,000 feet. I am pleased, however, that the Paseo Bridge in Kansas City will soon be replaced with a landmark structure. In November 2007, we awarded a contract that will lessen traffic congestion and increase mobility while adding an iconic bridge to the city's skyline.

The I-29 and I-35 connector project, known as kcICON, will result in safer, more convenient travel and a beautiful bridge that will be a Kansas City landmark for many decades to come.

This was also a landmark project because of the level of community involvement in its design. A 12-member citizen's advisory panel spent untold hours volunteering their time to choose a bridge that would add a dramatic architectural marvel to the city's skyline. They were given unprecedented access and input and their decision was final. That is a first in our nation. The result will be a bridge of which all Missourians can be proud. A bridge that shows how far we've come!

I am also pleased to report that Missouri and Illinois are in almost daily contact regarding another critical bridge project, the New Mississippi River Bridge in St. Louis. I remain hopeful that an agreement can be reached soon to move this project forward.

Unfortunately, there are many more major river bridges in Missouri that need to be replaced or repaired. In fact, we have more than any other state and more than 25 states combined.

To replace all the large bridges that need to be fixed would cost seven billion dollars. To make sure they are at least in satisfactory condition would cost 300 to 500 million dollars over 10 years. Either way we don't have the money.

Which brings me to another important topic. What would a State of Transportation Address be without a discussion of funding? It wouldn't be this one.

The perfect storm continues to brew on the transportation horizon. Three major factors are stirring up gale force winds that are coming on like a freight train set to arrive in 2010.

At that time, Amendment 3 bond money will be used up. We have been able to make great improvements to our highways and bridges quickly because of voter mandated bonding, but the proceeds dry up and future Amendment 3 revenues will go to repay the bonds.

On the federal front, money for highways is set to plummet unless Congress takes bold steps to prevent the tumble. In 2010, we will likely go from a 43 billion dollar federal highway program to a 25 billion dollar one -- a forty percent drop.

While we produce projects of great value through radical cost controls and budget management, the fact is our dollars are buying fewer projects overall because of rising costs for the materials that go into our roads and bridges.

For example, since 1997 state revenue for roads and bridges has grown 36 percent. At the same time, asphalt prices rose 97 percent - almost three times as much. Concrete has risen 48 percent. Steel has increased 57 percent. And, fuel to mow right of ways and move dirt has increased an incredible 204 percent.

In 2010, these factors converge and the bottom drops out of Missouri's transportation funding. We go from a 1.2 billion dollar construction program in 2005 to a 569 million dollar one. From the largest highway-building program in Missouri history to one where we will struggle to maintain roads. We will go from an improving highway system to one that is deteriorating.

And while I would love to stand here and expound on all the great achievements we have had making our other modes of transportation better, funding for those vital services has never been adequate. It is showing.

Ridership on Amtrak is growing in every state - except Missouri. Infrequent trips. Consistent delays of two hours or more. Passengers having to ride buses. It is little wonder Missourians are not flocking to Amtrak.

We have a plan to address Amtrak. It starts with allocating an additional 10 million dollars in funding to add tracks and install electronic on time messaging at stations across the state. I urge your support for this package. We must keep passenger rail viable in Missouri.

At the same time, I commend Gov. Blunt for proposing a four million dollar increase in funding for ports. Missouri is blessed with an abundance of waterways. It is imperative we invest more in this underused freight movement and transportation mode. We must see similar investment in aviation, public transit and bike and pedestrian facilities.

I am very concerned that the investments made in transportation by our grandparents that have given us unprecedented mobility and prosperity are not being made by our generation. Our children and grandchildren will not enjoy the same economic advantages and quality of life because of our refusal to pass along a comparable legacy.

Clearly, our transportation needs are great. The people of Missouri have identified 37 billion dollars in transportation priorities over the next 20 years. We project only 19 billion dollars in funding. That means an 18 billion dollar gap, not including inflation, between our needs and our ability to meet them. While the public has filet mignon expectations, MoDOT has Filet O' Fish funding.

I am encouraged that the discussion of transportation funding is ongoing and vibrant. More and more policy makers and key public opinion leaders are expressing concern about our looming funding crisis. They are exploring options for keeping us from going over the cliff.

Sen. Bill Stouffer and Rep. Neal St. Onge deserve credit for putting forward proposals that would dramatically increase funding for transportation. They are also leading efforts to educate the public about this dire situation.

Other innovative proposals have been put forth such as Sen. John Loudon's legislation to dedicate a portion of the growth in general revenue to transportation. Meanwhile, Sen. Matt Bartle continues to promote tolls as another tool to pay for needed highway improvements. I commend their leadership.

The discussion of funding must also include public private partnerships. Private sector investment in public sector improvements is a fact of life in today's global economy. I appreciate that Representative Charlie Schlottach has recognized that fact and is seeking to make public private partnerships a more readily available option for funding vital transportation projects.

The needs that directly impact our state's economic competitiveness are not going away. Our two busiest interstates, I-70 and I-44, are overcrowded and that congestion is growing everyday. They also have been stretched beyond their limits. The seven billion dollars necessary to completely rebuild and expand them -- with dedicated truck lanes to separate 18-wheelers from family sedans-- is a monetary illusion as we stand today.

What isn't an illusion is that climate change is an issue we must address. Discussions about transportation from here on out will include greater emphasis on environmentally sensitive approaches and solutions.

MoDOT is doing its part to be a greener organization and to protect the environment. We are using recycled roof shingles, tires and other materials in our pavement. In 2007, MoDOT used more than three million tons of asphalt containing recycled material on 1,020 miles of highway. Our efforts earned us the State Recycling Award last year.

At the same time, our entire vehicle fleet uses E-85 ethanol fuel and we use more biodiesel than all other state agencies combined. Plus, we are the first government agency in the nation to use hybrid bucket trucks. We are dedicated to being good stewards of the environment and we know that projects like the reconstruction of I-70 and I-44 must have a significant green focus.

There is no question environmental issues will play a large role in the reconstruction of these two interstates. There is, however, a question about how we will reconstruct them and the answer is more funding.

But, why should you trust us with more money? Because we have come a long way in just five years and we have shown you the results.

During my first address to the General Assembly, I made a lot of bold statements about how MoDOT would improve dramatically and as a result so would Missouri's transportation system.

I also said that I understood this is the Show-Me State and that we would have to show you the results. At that point, Speaker Rod Jetton started clapping verifying that we would indeed have to show him.

I would like to read you a quote from last December. "I gave MoDOT a hard time when it didn't perform well, and I feel I should brag on MoDOT now that it has things fixed. I am proud of MoDOT and the job it is doing. Seven years ago I never thought I would be able to say that. I can tell you it's great for Missouri. It's great for our economy. And, most importantly, it's great for our families."

I think you know where I'm going with this. The person who said that is Speaker Rod Jetton. We showed the speaker results and we are showing all Missourians results. That shows how far we've come!

The Show-me state is seeing results. We have installed median guard cables on I-70, I-44 and other interstates virtually eliminating cross over fatalities. We have expanded customer service to where you can reach a live person at MoDOT 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. We have reduced roadway fatalities by 23 percent in two years. We have gone from the third worst highway system in the country to an estimated ninth best.

We have come in under budget on 5.7 billion dollars in highway construction since 2003. And, we have saved 500 million dollars through Practical Design, which delivers highway improvements without unnecessary frills.

Secretary of Transportation Mary Peters has said that "The Show-Me State is showing America how to deliver highway projects on budget and on schedule, and even ahead of schedule."

We are showing the nation and we are showing Missourians how far we've come. Customer satisfaction in MoDOT has climbed dramatically since 1999. 79 percent of Missourians say they think MoDOT is credible and worthy of their trust. That shows how far we've come!

We have come a long way in a short time. We are saving lives. We are making highways smoother. We are saving taxpayers' money. We are involving and listening to citizens. We have regained the trust of the people of this state.

Our remarkable turnaround has been noticed nationally and in our state. In November of last year, MoDOT won the prestigious Missouri Quality Award. We went through a rigorous review and emerged with an award that recognizes innovation, leadership, customer service, efficiency and that confirms we are a high performing organization on par with past winners like Boeing, Anheuser-Busch and Sprint. Winning the Missouri Quality Award demonstrates how far we've come!

We have come a long way, but we know success is not a destination -- it is a journey. And, the only way we succeed is together. For MoDOT's part, we remain committed to our mission of "Providing a world-class transportation experience that delights our customers and promotes a prosperous Missouri."

I bring this final address to a close, however, with a statement I made in 2005. We have shown you amazing progress. But, you ain't seen nothin' yet!

Thank you and may God bless your travels.

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTEENTH DAY—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“O Lord what are human beings that you regard them, or mortals that you think of them?” (Psalm 144)

Merciful God, we are mindful of our weaknesses and inadequacies and often forget the frailness of our human state, so we call on You to help us remember whose we are and to be humble with those we spend this day and weekend with and always remember to treat them with dignity and respect. In this frailty of life we are mindful of the death of Senator John Loudon’s father and commend him to Your loving care. And we pray for the Loudon family that You might comfort them with the memory of Your mercy and care and be an ever present help to them. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

“135.681. 1. The director of the department of economic development or the director's designee shall issue letter rulings regarding the tax credit program authorized under section 135.680, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this section. The director of the department of economic development may impose additional terms and conditions consistent with this section to requests for letter rulings by regulation promulgated under chapter 536, RSMo. For the purposes of this section, the term “letter ruling” means a written interpretation of law to a specific set of facts provided by the applicant requesting a letter ruling.

2. The director or director's designee shall respond to a request for a letter ruling within sixty days of receipt of such request. The applicant may provide a draft letter ruling for the department's consideration. The applicant may withdraw the request for a letter ruling, in writing, prior to the issuance of the letter ruling. The director or the director's designee may refuse to issue a letter ruling for good cause, but must list the specific reasons for refusing to issue the letter ruling. Good cause includes, but is not limited to:

(1) The applicant requests the director to determine whether a statute is constitutional or a regulation is lawful;

(2) The request involves a hypothetical situation or alternative plans;

(3) The facts or issues presented in the request are unclear, overbroad, insufficient, or otherwise inappropriate as a basis upon which to issue a letter ruling; and

(4) The issue is currently being considered in a rulemaking procedure, contested case, or other agency or judicial proceeding that may definitely resolve the issue.

3. Letter rulings shall bind the director and the director's agents and their successors until such time as the taxpayer or its shareholders, members, or partners, as applicable, claim all of such tax credits on a Missouri tax return, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in properly published regulations. The letter ruling shall apply only to the applicant.

4. Letter rulings issued under the authority of this section shall not be a rule as defined in section 536.010, RSMo, in that it is an interpretation issued by the department with respect to a specific set of facts and intended to apply only to that specific set of facts, and therefore shall not be subject to the rulemaking requirements of chapter 536, RSMo.

5. Information in letter ruling requests as described in section 620.014, RSMo, as well as the applicant identifying information shall be closed to the public. Copies of letter rulings shall be available to the public provided that the applicant identifying information and otherwise protected information is redacted from the letter ruling as provided in subsection 1 of section 610.024, RSMo.”; and “135.681. 1. The director of the department of economic development or the director's designee shall issue letter rulings regarding the tax credit program authorized under section 135.680, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this section. The director of the department of economic development may impose additional terms and conditions consistent with this section to requests for letter rulings by regulation promulgated under chapter 536, RSMo. For the purposes of this section, the term “letter ruling” means a written interpretation of law to a specific set of facts provided by the applicant requesting a letter ruling.

2. The director or director's designee shall respond to a request for a letter ruling within sixty days of receipt of such request. The applicant may provide a draft letter ruling for the department's consideration. The applicant may withdraw the request for a letter ruling, in writing, prior to the issuance of the letter ruling. The director or the director's designee may refuse to issue a letter ruling for good cause, but must list the specific reasons for refusing to issue the letter ruling. Good cause includes, but is not limited to:

(1) The applicant requests the director to determine whether a statute is constitutional or a regulation is lawful;

(2) The request involves a hypothetical situation or alternative plans;

(3) The facts or issues presented in the request are unclear, overbroad, insufficient, or otherwise inappropriate as a basis upon which to issue a letter ruling; and

(4) The issue is currently being considered in a rulemaking procedure, contested case, or other agency or judicial proceeding that may definitely resolve the issue.

3. Letter rulings shall bind the director and the director's agents and their successors until such time as the taxpayer or its shareholders, members, or partners, as applicable, claim all of such tax credits on a Missouri tax return, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in properly published regulations. The letter ruling shall apply only to the applicant.

4. Letter rulings issued under the authority of this section shall not be a rule as defined in section 536.010, RSMo, in that it is an interpretation issued by the department with respect to a specific set of facts and intended to apply only to that specific set of facts, and therefore shall not be subject to the rulemaking requirements of chapter 536, RSMo.

5. Information in letter ruling requests as described in section 620.014, RSMo, shall be closed to the public. Copies of letter rulings shall be available to the public provided that the applicant identifying information and otherwise protected information is redacted from the letter ruling as provided in subsection 1 of section 610.024, RSMo.”; and

And further amend said page, same section, line 19 by inserting immediately after all of said line the following “(2) If, at any time after the issuance of a letter under this section, the director determines that the taxpayer no longer qualifies for a tax credit under law, the director may withdraw the letter ruling and such letter ruling shall have no legal effect. SECOND REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-FIRST DAY—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Behold, you are beautiful, my love, behold, you are beautiful.” (Song of Solomon 4:1)

Loving God, You have taught us the power and greatness of love and would have us love one another and those You have given us to love. So on this Valentine’s Day we give You thanks and praise for those who love us. Especially we are thankful for those we share the joys of life and to whom we return this day. May we be increasingly aware of the sacrifice they make so we may do our job here, caring for those details that challenge their day and often tax their spirit. Help us to be thankful and grateful for their efforts and celebrate the love they share with us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-SECOND DAY—MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had absolutely no other place to go.” (Abraham Lincoln)

Almighty God, we remember this day for those presidents who have served You and our nation often during extremely stressful times. We gain wisdom from what they have to teach us and that helps us to know better how to do what You desire of us. We see in Lincoln and Washington their witness to fall to their knees and ask for strength and guidance and then make difficult decisions and live with the responsibilities of them. Help us to have such humility and willingness to do the same before You. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-THIRD DAY—TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Be not wise in your own eyes; fear the Lord, and turn away from evil.” (Proverbs 3:7)

Merciful God, we continue to see violence and evil that takes the lives of Your people and its damages to people we know and care for. We know evil comes from the narcissistic who in their self absorbed wisdom afflict others for their gratification and lack of caring. So we pray for strength that we may deal effectively with such people and pass laws that protect society from such people. We pray for those injured and in pain from such evil that You may comfort and heal them and give them Your peace. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Purgason, Dempsey, Shoemyer, Crowell, Callahan, Scott, Barnitz, Green, Engler, Clemens, Griesheimer and Rupp offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 32

WHEREAS, President George W. Bush established the Security and Prosperity Partnership (SPP) of North America, with the nations of Mexico and Canada on March 23, 2005; and

WHEREAS, this plan is nothing short of revolutionary. As Lou Dobbs put it on his CNN program, it is “an absolute contravention of our law, of our Constitution, every national value.”; and

WHEREAS, this plan sounds like a new innovation, it is not new. It is the next step in a progression of steps that, in a manner very similar to the process used in Europe to supplant individual nations with the European Union, will ultimately lead to the formation of a new government for the United States, the North American Union; and

WHEREAS, the gradual creation of such a North American Union from a merger of the United States, Mexico, and Canada would be a direct threat to the Constitution and national independence of the United States, and imply an eventual end to national borders within North America; and

WHEREAS, a White House news release confirmed the continuing existence of the SPP and its “ongoing process of cooperation” on March 31, 2006; and

WHEREAS, Congressman Ron Paul (who opposed the SPP or any form of North American Union between countries in the Americas) has written that a key to the SPP plan is an extensive new NAFTA superhighway: “[U]nder this new ‘partnership’, a massive highway is being planned to stretch from Canada to Mexico, through the State of Texas”; and

WHEREAS, this trilateral partnership to develop a North American Union has never been presented to Congress as an agreement or treaty, and has had virtually no congressional oversight; and

WHEREAS, state and local governments throughout the United States would be negatively impacted by the SPP/North American Union process, such as the “open borders” vision of the SPP, eminent domain takings of private property along the planned superhighways, and increased law enforcement problems along those same superhighways:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Congress of the United States to use all of its efforts, energies, and diligence to withdraw the United States from any further participation in the Security and Prosperity Partnership of North America and any other bilateral or trilateral activity, however named, which seeks to advance, authorize, fund, or in any way promote the creation of any structure to accomplish any form of North American Union as herein described; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

(1) Not later than the eighth day before an election for the period closing on the twelfth day before the election if the committee has made any contribution or expenditure either in support or opposition to any candidate or ballot measure;

(2) Not later than the thirtieth day after an election for a period closing on the twenty-fifth day after the election, if the committee has made any contribution or expenditure either in support of or opposition to any candidate or ballot measure; except that, a successful candidate who takes office prior to the twenty-fifth day after the election shall have complied with the report requirement of this subdivision if a disclosure report is filed by such candidate and any candidate committee under the candidate's control before such candidate takes office, and such report shall be for the period closing on the day before taking office;[and]

(3) Not later than the fifteenth day following the close of each calendar quarter. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, if any committee accepts contributions or makes expenditures in support of or in opposition to a ballot measure or a candidate, and the report required by this subsection for the most recent calendar quarter is filed prior to the fortieth day before the election on the measure or candidate, the committee shall file an additional disclosure report not later than the fortieth day before the election for the period closing on the forty-fifth day before the election; and

(4) Every forty-eight hours within thirty days of the election for committees making any contribution in support of or in opposition to any candidate for state representative, state senator, or statewide elected office.

2. In the case of a ballot measure to be qualified to be on the ballot by initiative petition or referendum petition, or a recall petition seeking to remove an incumbent from office, disclosure reports relating to the time for filing such petitions shall be made as follows:

(1) In addition to the disclosure reports required to be filed pursuant to subsection 1 of this section the treasurer of a committee, other than a continuing committee, supporting or opposing a petition effort to qualify a measure to appear on the ballot or to remove an incumbent from office shall file an initial disclosure report fifteen days after the committee begins the process of raising or spending money. After such initial report, the committee shall file quarterly disclosure reports as required by subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section until such time as the reports required by subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section are to be filed. In addition the committee shall file a second disclosure report no later than the fifteenth day after the deadline date for submitting such petition. The period covered in the initial report shall begin on the day the committee first accepted contributions or made expenditures to support or oppose the petition effort for qualification of the measure and shall close on the fifth day prior to the date of the report;

(2) If the measure has qualified to be on the ballot in an election and if a committee subject to the requirements of subdivision (1) of this subsection is also required to file a preelection disclosure report for such election any time within thirty days after the date on which disclosure reports are required to be filed in accordance with subdivision (1) of this subsection, the treasurer of such committee shall not be required to file the report required by subdivision (1) of this subsection, but shall include in the committee's preelection report all information which would otherwise have been required by subdivision (1) of this subsection.

3. The candidate, if applicable, treasurer or deputy treasurer of a committee shall file disclosure reports pursuant to this section, except for any calendar quarter in which the contributions received by the committee or the expenditures or contributions made by the committee do not exceed five hundred dollars. No candidate, treasurer or deputy treasurer shall be required to file the quarterly disclosure report required not later than the fifteenth day of any January immediately following a November election, provided that such candidate, treasurer or deputy treasurer shall file the information required on such quarterly report on the quarterly report to be filed not later than the fifteenth day of April immediately following such November election. Each report by such committee shall be cumulative from the date of the last report. In the case of the continuing committee's first report, the report shall be cumulative from the date of the continuing committee's organization. Every candidate, treasurer or deputy treasurer shall file, at a minimum, the campaign disclosure reports covering the quarter immediately preceding the date of the election and those required by subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section. A continuing committee shall submit additional reports if it makes aggregate expenditures, other than contributions to a committee, of five hundred dollars or more, within the reporting period at the following times for the following periods:

(1) Not later than the eighth day before an election for the period closing on the twelfth day before the election;

(2) Not later than twenty-four hours after aggregate expenditures of two hundred fifty dollars or more are made after the twelfth day before the election; and

(3) Not later than the thirtieth day after an election for a period closing on the twenty-fifth day after the election.

4. The reports required to be filed no later than the thirtieth day after an election and any subsequently required report shall be cumulative so as to reflect the total receipts and disbursements of the reporting committee for the entire election campaign in question. The period covered by each disclosure report shall begin on the day after the closing date of the most recent disclosure report filed and end on the closing date for the period covered. If the committee has not previously filed a disclosure report, the period covered begins on the date the committee was formed; except that in the case of a candidate committee, the period covered begins on the date the candidate became a candidate according to the definition of the term candidate in section 130.011.

5. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter to the contrary:

(1) Certain disclosure reports pertaining to any candidate who receives nomination in a primary election and thereby seeks election in the immediately succeeding general election shall not be required in the following cases:

(a) If there are less than fifty days between a primary election and the immediately succeeding general election, the disclosure report required to be filed quarterly; provided that, any other report required to be filed prior to the primary election and all other reports required to be filed not later than the eighth day before the general election are filed no later than the final dates for filing such reports;

(b) If there are less than eighty-five days between a primary election and the immediately succeeding general election, the disclosure report required to be filed not later than the thirtieth day after the primary election need not be filed; provided that any report required to be filed prior to the primary election and any other report required to be filed prior to the general election are filed no later than the final dates for filing such reports; and

(2) No disclosure report needs to be filed for any reporting period if during that reporting period the committee has neither received contributions aggregating more than five hundred dollars nor made expenditure aggregating more than five hundred dollars and has not received contributions aggregating more than three hundred dollars from any single contributor and if the committee's treasurer files a statement with the appropriate officer that the committee has not exceeded the identified thresholds in the reporting period. Any contributions received or expenditures made which are not reported because this statement is filed in lieu of a disclosure report shall be included in the next disclosure report filed by the committee. This statement shall not be filed in lieu of the report for two or more consecutive disclosure periods if either the contributions received or expenditures made in the aggregate during those reporting periods exceed five hundred dollars. This statement shall not be filed, in lieu of the report, later than the thirtieth day after an election if that report would show a deficit of more than one thousand dollars.

6. (1) If the disclosure report required to be filed by a committee not later than the thirtieth day after an election shows a deficit of unpaid loans and other outstanding obligations in excess of five thousand dollars, semiannual supplemental disclosure reports shall be filed with the appropriate officer for each succeeding semiannual period until the deficit is reported in a disclosure report as being reduced to five thousand dollars or less; except that, a supplemental semiannual report shall not be required for any semiannual period which includes the closing date for the reporting period covered in any regular disclosure report which the committee is required to file in connection with an election. The reporting dates and periods covered for semiannual reports shall be not later than the fifteenth day of January and July for periods closing on the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June.

7. In the case of a committee which disbands and is required to file a termination statement pursuant to the provisions of section 130.021 with the appropriate officer not later than the tenth day after the committee was dissolved, the candidate, committee treasurer or deputy treasurer shall attach to the termination statement a complete disclosure report for the period closing on the date of dissolution. A committee shall not utilize the provisions of subsection 8 of section 130.021 or the provisions of this subsection to circumvent or otherwise avoid the reporting requirements of subsection 6 or 7 of this section.

8. Disclosure reports shall be filed with the appropriate officer not later than 5:00 p.m. prevailing local time of the day designated for the filing of the report and a report postmarked not later than midnight of the day previous to the day designated for filing the report shall be deemed to have been filed in a timely manner. The appropriate officer may establish a policy whereby disclosure reports may be filed by facsimile transmission.

9. SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 6

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 711, Page 4, Section 67.110, Line 19 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“135.010. As used in sections 135.010 to 135.030 the following words and terms mean:

(1) “Claimant”, a person or persons claiming a credit under sections 135.010 to 135.030. If the persons are eligible to file a joint federal income tax return and reside at the same address at any time during the taxable year, then the credit may only be allowed if claimed on a combined Missouri income tax return or a combined claim return reporting their combined incomes and property taxes. A claimant shall not be allowed a property tax credit unless the claimant or spouse has attained the age of sixty-five on or before the last day of the calendar year and the claimant or spouse was a resident of Missouri for the entire year, or the claimant or spouse is a veteran of any branch of the armed forces of the United States or this state who became one hundred percent disabled as a result of such service, or the claimant or spouse is disabled as defined in subdivision (2) of this section, and such claimant or spouse provides proof of such disability in such form and manner, and at such times, as the director of revenue may require, or if the claimant has reached the age of sixty on or before the last day of the calendar year and such claimant received surviving spouse Social Security benefits during the calendar year and the claimant provides proof, as required by the director of revenue, that the claimant received surviving spouse Social Security benefits during the calendar year for which the credit will be claimed. A claimant shall not be allowed a property tax credit if the claimant filed a valid claim for a credit under section 137.106, RSMo, in the year following the year for which the property tax credit is claimed. The residency requirement shall be deemed to have been fulfilled for the purpose of determining the eligibility of a surviving spouse for a property tax credit if a person of the age of sixty-five years or older who would have otherwise met the requirements for a property tax credit dies before the last day of the calendar year. The residency requirement shall also be deemed to have been fulfilled for the purpose of determining the eligibility of a claimant who would have otherwise met the requirements for a property tax credit but who dies before the last day of the calendar year;

(2) “Disabled”, the inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than twelve months. A claimant shall not be required to be gainfully employed prior to such disability to qualify for a property tax credit;

(3) “Gross rent”, amount paid by a claimant to a landlord for the rental, at arm's length, of a homestead during the calendar year, exclusive of charges for health and personal care services and food furnished as part of the rental agreement, whether or not expressly set out in the rental agreement. If the director of revenue determines that the landlord and tenant have not dealt at arm's length, and that the gross rent is excessive, then he shall determine the gross rent based upon a reasonable amount of rent. Gross rent shall be deemed to be paid only if actually paid prior to the date a return is filed. The director of revenue may prescribe regulations requiring a return of information by a landlord receiving rent, certifying for a calendar year the amount of gross rent received from a tenant claiming a property tax credit and shall, by regulation, provide a method for certification by the claimant of the amount of gross rent paid for any calendar year for which a claim is made. The regulations authorized by this subdivision may require a landlord or a tenant or both to provide data relating to health and personal care services and to food. Neither a landlord nor a tenant may be required to provide data relating to utilities, furniture, home furnishings or appliances;

(4) “Homestead”, the dwelling in Missouri owned or rented by the claimant and not to exceed five acres of land surrounding it as is reasonably necessary for use of the dwelling as a home. It may consist of part of a multidwelling or multipurpose building and part of the land upon which it is built. “Owned” includes a vendee in possession under a land contract and one or more tenants by the entireties, joint tenants, or tenants in common and includes a claimant actually in possession if he was the immediate former owner of record, if a lineal descendant is presently the owner of record, and if the claimant actually pays all taxes upon the property. It may include a mobile home;

(5) “Income”, Missouri adjusted gross income as defined in section 143.121, RSMo, less [two] twenty thousand dollars as an exemption for the claimant's spouse residing at the same address, and increased, where necessary, to reflect the following:

(a) Social Security, railroad retirement, and veterans payments and benefits unless the claimant is a one hundred percent service-connected, disabled veteran or a spouse of a one hundred percent service-connected, disabled veteran. The one hundred percent service-connected disabled veteran shall not be required to list veterans payments and benefits;

(b) The total amount of all other public and private pensions and annuities;

(c) Public relief, public assistance, and unemployment benefits received in cash, other than benefits received under this chapter;

(d) No deduction being allowed for losses not incurred in a trade or business;

(e) Interest on the obligations of the United States, any state, or any of their subdivisions and instrumentalities;

(6) “Property taxes accrued”, property taxes paid, exclusive of special assessments, penalties, interest, and charges for service levied on a claimant's homestead in any calendar year. Property taxes shall qualify for the credit only if actually paid prior to the date a return is filed. The director of revenue shall require a tax receipt or other proof of property tax payment. If a homestead is owned only partially by claimant, then “property taxes accrued” is that part of property taxes levied on the homestead which was actually paid by the claimant. For purposes of this subdivision, property taxes are “levied” when the tax roll is delivered to the director of revenue for collection. If a claimant owns a homestead part of the preceding calendar year and rents it or a different homestead for part of the same year, “property taxes accrued” means only taxes levied on the homestead both owned and occupied by the claimant, multiplied by the percentage of twelve months that such property was owned and occupied as the homestead of the claimant during the year. When a claimant owns and occupies two or more different homesteads in the same calendar year, property taxes accrued shall be the sum of taxes allocable to those several properties occupied by the claimant as a homestead for the year. If a homestead is an integral part of a larger unit such as a farm, or multipurpose or multidwelling building, property taxes accrued shall be that percentage of the total property taxes accrued as the value of the homestead is of the total value. For purposes of this subdivision “unit” refers to the parcel of property covered by a single tax statement of which the homestead is a part;

(7) “Rent constituting property taxes accrued”, twenty percent of the gross rent paid by a claimant and spouse in the calendar year.”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 5, Section 135.030, Line 6 of said page, by inserting after “dollars” the following: “. For all calendar years beginning on or after January 1, 2009, the maximum upper limit shall be the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars”; and further amend line 11 of said page, by inserting after “dollars.” the following: “For all calendar years beginning on or after January 1, 2009, the minimum base shall be the sum of eighteen thousand dollars.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Shoemyer moved that the above amendment be adopted.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Champion offered Senate Resolution No. 1963, regarding Wing Lin “David” Leong, Springfield, which was adopted.

Senator Graham offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1964

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether fitting and proper to pause from time to time to recognize individuals and organizations that have contributed to the welfare of this great state and its citizens or distinguished themselves through significant personal achievement; and

Whereas, the members now pause to recognize the University of Missouri Tigers Football Team, which brought honor to its school and its state on January 1, 2008, when the team won the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas, defeating the 24th-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks with a score of 38-7; and

Whereas, this victory was the Tigers’ first New Year’s Day bowl victory since 1966, and it capped what was in many respects the most successful season in Mizzou history, despite playing the nation’s 13th most difficult schedule; and

Whereas, the Tigers went 12-2 during the 2007 regular season, and their twelve wins were the most ever in a single season, and the team won the Big 12 North Division with a league record of 7-1, and the regular season was capped off by a nationally televised win over arch-rival Kansas at Arrowhead Stadium in Kansas City, and the Tigers won with a score of 36-28, after which the Tigers were ranked Number One in the country; and

Whereas, Mizzou’s victories over Illinois and Kansas made Missouri the only team heading into the bowl season to defeat two BCS Bowl combatants; and

Whereas, Tiger players and coaches also garnered individual accolades, including quarterback Chase Daniel, who is Mizzou’s first-ever Heisman Trophy finalist, finishing fourth in the final vote, and the team had two consensus first-team All-Americans in 2007, the first time two players received such an honor in the same season, and those players were tight end Martin Rucker and wide receiver/kick returner Jeremy Maclin; and

Whereas, Tigers coach Gary Pinkel was a finalist for the Bear Bryant National Coach of the Year Award, among many other awards, and assistant head coach Dave Christensen was named National Offensive Coordinator of the Year by Rivals.com:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, applaud the University of Missouri Tigers Football Team and their stellar performance on New Year’s Day, with our best wishes for each player, assistant coaches, and head coach for continued success in the future; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the University of Missouri Football Tigers.

INTRODUCTIONS OF GUESTS

Senator Graham introduced to the Senate, players and coaches from the University of Missouri Tiger football team.

Head Coach Gary Pinkel assumed the dais and addressed the members of the Senate.

President Pro Tem Gibbons assumed the Chair.

WHEREAS, Missouri's long-standing agriculture tradition continues to thrive and contribute to our economy and to our families; and

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri has maintained a robust and lucrative agriculture culture, frequently ranking in the top ten among states with regard to the number of operating farms, hay, cotton, and corn production, cattle, hog, and turkey production, and more; and

WHEREAS, the economic benefits from these agricultural operations are profoundly important to our communities, to our state, and to our nation; and

WHEREAS, the farm family is the backbone of our state, as we, a legislative body, do swear to uphold and promote our farming community and protect the freedoms we share; and

WHEREAS, with the introduction of the Missouri Animal ID Program, a coordinated effort between the Missouri Department of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), the issues of food security and personal freedom became a reality for Missouri agriculture producers; and

WHEREAS, the USDA National Animal Identification System (NAIS) is currently and should remain a voluntary program with regard to animal identification programs and marketing practices; and

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri General Assembly oppose such animal identification programs being mandatory:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Department of Agriculture to continue the National Animal Identification System program as a voluntary program to allow agricultural families to direct their own future; and

The following Bill was read the 1st time and ordered printed:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Shoemyer, Lager, Ridgeway, Goodman, Purgason, Barnitz, Mayer, Clemens, Nodler, Scott, Kennedy, Stouffer, Engler, Griesheimer and Bartle offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 35

WHEREAS, horse processing is the most tightly regulated of any animal harvest, and the horse is the only animal that has its transportation to processing regulated. If horse processing plants are forced to close and export options are eliminated, the Horse Welfare Coalition estimates that 90,000 to 100,000 unwanted horses annually would be exposed to potential abandonment and neglect; and

WHEREAS, the 90,000 to 100,000 additional unwanted horses each year would compete for adoption with the 32,000 wild horses that United States taxpayers are already paying $40 million to shelter and feed; and

WHEREAS, the nation's inadequate, overburdened, and unregulated horse rescue and adoption facilities cannot handle the influx of the approximately 60,000 or more additional horses each year that would result from a harvesting ban, according to the Congressional Research Service; and

WHEREAS, many zoo animal diets rely on equine protein because it mimics what the animal would receive in the wild. Veterinarians and animal nutritionists say it is the healthiest diet for big cats and rare birds. If legislation shuts down horse processing facilities, the only source for this meat that is inspected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will be eliminated:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to strongly support the continuation of horse processing in the United States and to offer incentives that help create horse processing plants throughout the United States, such as state-inspected horse harvest for export; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri General Assembly strongly encourage Congress to support new horse processing facilities and the continuation of existing facilities on both the state and national level; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri General Assembly urge Congress to oppose S. 311 and H.R. 503 of the 110th Congress and strongly support the transportation and processing of horses in the United States and internationally; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri General Assembly support the location of USDA-approved horse processing facilities on state, tribal, or private lands under mutually-acceptable and market-driven land leases and, if necessary, a mutually-acceptable assignment of revenues that meet the needs of all parties involved with the facility; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

As we hear Your word we are also mindful of Your rule of Your left hand, the kingdom of this world and its governments. THIRTY-FIRST DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Goodman in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Hear my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer. From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed...I will trust in the covert of thy wings. (Psalms 61:1, 2a, 4b)

Gracious God, we thank You for this day and pray that You will continue to hear us and direct us along Your righteous pathways. And we pray, mindful that our brother, Senator Gibbons goes home this day to await surgery tomorrow morning. So we pray that You will be a healing presence and comfort the anxieties of his family and ease his mind having hope in Your love. And we pray that You will guide the hands of the doctors and nurses who seek to promote new tissue, and healing so health will be his. All this we ask and more in Your Holy Name. Amen.

[4.] 5. An individual practitioner may not prescribe or dispense a controlled substance for such practitioner's personal use except in a medical emergency.

195.100. 1. It shall be unlawful to distribute any controlled substance in a commercial container unless such container bears a label containing an identifying symbol for such substance in accordance with federal laws.

2. It shall be unlawful for any manufacturer of any controlled substance to distribute such substance unless the labeling thereof conforms to the requirements of federal law and contains the identifying symbol required in subsection 1 of this section.

3. The label of a controlled substance in Schedule II, III or IV shall, when dispensed to or for a patient, contain a clear, concise warning that it is a criminal offense to transfer such narcotic or dangerous drug to any person other than the patient.

4. Whenever a manufacturer sells or dispenses a controlled substance and whenever a wholesaler sells or dispenses a controlled substance in a package prepared by him, he shall securely affix to each package in which that drug is contained, a label showing in legible English the name and address of the vendor and the quantity, kind, and form of controlled substance contained therein. No person except a pharmacist for the purpose of filling a prescription under sections 195.005 to 195.425, shall alter, deface, or remove any label so affixed.

5. Whenever a pharmacist or practitioner sells or dispenses any controlled substance on a prescription

“334.104. 1. A physician may enter into collaborative practice arrangements with registered professional nurses. Collaborative practice arrangements shall be in the form of written agreements, jointly agreed-upon protocols, or standing orders for the delivery of health care services. Collaborative practice arrangements, which shall be in writing, may delegate to a registered professional nurse the authority to administer or dispense drugs and provide treatment as long as the delivery of such health care services is within the scope of practice of the registered professional nurse and is consistent with that nurse's skill, training and competence.

2. Collaborative practice arrangements, which shall be in writing, may delegate to a registered professional nurse the authority to administer, dispense or prescribe drugs and provide treatment if the registered professional nurse is an advanced practice nurse as defined in subdivision (2) of section 335.016, RSMo. Collaborative practice arrangements may delegate to an advanced practice registered nurse, as defined in section 335.016, RSMo, the authority to administer, dispense, or prescribe controlled substances listed in Schedules III, IV, and V of section 195.017, RSMo. Such collaborative practice arrangements shall be in the form of written agreements, jointly agreed-upon protocols or standing orders for the delivery of health care services.

3. The written collaborative practice arrangement shall contain at least the following provisions:

(1) Complete names, home and business addresses, zip codes, and telephone numbers of the collaborating physician and the advanced practice registered nurse;

(2) A list of all other offices or locations besides those listed in subdivision (1) of this subsection where the collaborating physician authorized the advanced practice registered nurse to prescribe;

(3) A requirement that there shall be posted at every office where the advanced practice registered nurse is authorized to prescribe, in collaboration with a physician, a prominently displayed disclosure statement informing patients that they may be seen by an advanced practice registered nurse and have the right to see the collaborating physician;

(4) All specialty or board certifications of the collaborating physician and all certifications of the advanced practice registered nurse;

(5) The manner of collaboration between the collaborating physician and the advanced practice registered nurse, including how the collaborating physician and the advanced practice registered nurse will:

(a) Engage in collaborative practice consistent with each professional's skill, training, education,

and competence;

(b) Maintain geographic proximity; and

(c) Provide coverage during absence, incapacity, infirmity, or emergency by the collaborating physician;

(6) A description of the advanced practice registered nurse's controlled substance prescriptive authority in collaboration with the physician, including a list of the controlled substances the physician authorizes the nurse to prescribe and documentation that it is consistent with each professional's education, knowledge, skill, and competence;

(7) A list of all other written practice agreements of the collaborating physician and the advanced practice registered nurse;

(8) The duration of the written practice agreement between the collaborating physician and the advanced practice registered nurse; and

(9) A description of the time and manner of the collaborating physician's review of the advanced practice registered nurse's prescribing practices. The description shall include provisions that the advanced practice registered nurse shall submit documentation of the advanced practice registered nurse's prescribing practices to the collaborating physician within fourteen days. The documentation shall include, but not be limited to, a random sample review by the collaborating physician of at least twenty percent of the charts and medications prescribed.

4. The state board of registration for the healing arts pursuant to section 334.125 and the board of nursing pursuant to section 335.036, RSMo, may jointly promulgate rules regulating the use of collaborative practice arrangements. Such rules shall be limited to specifying geographic areas to be covered, the methods of treatment that may be covered by collaborative practice arrangements and the requirements for review of services provided pursuant to collaborative practice arrangements including delegating authority to prescribe controlled substances. Any rules relating to dispensing or distribution of medications or devices by prescription or prescription drug orders under this section shall be subject to the approval of the state board of pharmacy. In order to take effect, such rules shall be approved by a majority vote of a quorum of each board. Neither the state board of registration for the healing arts nor the board of nursing may separately promulgate rules relating to collaborative practice arrangements. Such jointly promulgated rules shall be consistent with guidelines for federally funded clinics. The rulemaking authority granted in this subsection shall not extend to collaborative practice arrangements of hospital employees providing inpatient care within hospitals as defined pursuant to chapter 197, RSMo.

[4.] 5. The state board of registration for the healing arts shall not deny, revoke, suspend or otherwise take disciplinary action against a physician for health care services delegated to a registered professional nurse provided the provisions of this section and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied. Upon the written request of a physician subject to a disciplinary action imposed as a result of an agreement between a physician and a registered professional nurse or registered physician assistant, whether written or not, prior to August 28, 1993, all records of such disciplinary licensure action and all records pertaining to the filing, investigation or review of an alleged violation of this chapter incurred as a result of such an agreement shall be removed from the records of the state board of registration for the healing arts and the division of professional registration and shall not be disclosed to any public or private entity seeking such information from the board or the division. The state board of registration for the healing arts shall take action to correct reports of alleged violations and disciplinary actions as described in this section which have been submitted to the National Practitioner Data Bank. In subsequent applications or representations relating to his medical practice, a physician completing forms or documents shall not be required to report any actions of the state board of registration for the healing arts for which the records are subject to removal under this section.

[5.] 6. Within thirty days of any change and on each renewal, the state board of registration for the healing arts shall require every physician to identify whether the physician is engaged in any collaborative practice agreement, including collaborative practice agreements delegating the authority to prescribe controlled substances, or physician assistant agreement and also report to the board the name of each licensed professional with whom the physician has entered into such agreement. The board may make this information available to the public. The board shall track the reported information and may routinely conduct random reviews of such agreements to ensure that agreements are carried out for compliance under this chapter.

[6.] 7. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, a registered nurse who has graduated from a school of nurse anesthesia accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Educational Programs of Nurse Anesthesia or its predecessor and has been certified or is eligible for certification as a nurse anesthetist by the Council on Certification of Nurse Anesthetists shall be permitted to provide anesthesia services without a collaborative practice arrangement provided that he or she is under the supervision of an anesthesiologist or other physician, dentist, or podiatrist who is immediately available if needed.

8. A collaborating physician shall not enter into a collaborative practice arrangement with more than three full-time equivalent advanced practice registered nurses. This limitation shall not apply to collaborative arrangements of hospital employees providing inpatient care service in hospitals as defined in chapter 197, RSMo.

9. It is the responsibility of the collaborating physician to determine and document the completion of at least a one-month period of time during which the advanced practice registered nurse shall practice with the collaborating physician continuously present before practicing in a setting where the collaborating physician is not continuously present.

10. No agreement made under this section shall supersede current hospital licensing regulations governing hospital medication orders under protocols or standing orders for the purpose of delivering inpatient or emergency care within a hospital as defined in section 197.020, RSMo, if such protocols or standing orders have been approved by the hospital's medical staff and pharmaceutical therapeutics committee.

11. No contract or other agreement shall require a physician to act as a collaborating physician for an advanced practice registered nurse against the physician's will. A physician shall have the right to refuse to act as a collaborating physician, without penalty, for a particular advanced practice registered nurse. No contract or other agreement shall limit the collaborating physician's ultimate authority over any protocols or standing orders or in the delegation of the physician's authority to any advanced practice registered nurse, but this requirement shall not authorize a physician in implementing such protocols, standing orders, or delegation to violate applicable standards for safe medical practice established by hospital's medical staff.

12. No contract or other agreement shall require any advanced practice registered nurse to serve as a collaborating advanced practice registered nurse for any collaborating physician against the advanced practice registered nurse's will. An advanced practice registered nurse shall have the right to refuse to collaborate, without penalty, with a particular physician.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“I find hope in the Word of God. I find hope in people who are around me who are hopeful. I find hope in the music that I listen to...I find hope in my family.” (Thelma Wells)

Lord God, in the work we do and the lives we live we must be a people of hope and as such find that hope in You and Your creation. So as we finish our work here this week and return to loved ones, we pray bless us and watch over our travel and bring us safely home. And Lord we give You thanks for the successful surgery of Senator Gibbons and pray for his continued healing. And we pray for the family of Mike Keathley at his passing that You might comfort and grant them Your peace. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The department shall adopt, by rules and regulations, program guidelines for the application for and placement of signs authorized by this section, including, but not limited to, the sign application and qualification process, the procedure for the dedication of signs, and procedures for the replacement or restoration of any signs that are damaged or stolen. The department shall also establish by rule, application procedures and methods for proving eligibility for the program.

3. Any person may apply to the department of transportation to sponsor a drunk driving victim memorial sign in memory of an immediate family member who died as a result of a motor vehicle accident caused by a person who was shown to have been operating a motor vehicle in violation of section 577.010 or 577.012, RSMo, or was committing an intoxication-related traffic offense at the time of the accident. Upon the request of an immediate family member of the deceased victim involved in a drunk driving accident, the department shall place a sign in accordance with this section. A person who is not a member of the immediate family may also submit a request to have a sign placed under this section if that person also submits the written consent of an immediate family member. The department shall charge the sponsoring party a fee to cover the department's cost in designing, constructing, placing, and maintaining that sign, and the department's costs in administering this section. 7. The department shall adopt rules and regulations to implement and administer the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2008, shall be invalid and void."'; and

Lord God, You know it is easier for us to do that which is comfortable and pleasing to ourselves and often very uncomfortable to do that which we know will not be pleasant. But help us to strengthen our moral muscles by exercising them daily doing what is right and resisting life’s constant small temptations. For it is Your call for us to serve and walk Your righteous path. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The department shall have the authority and jurisdiction to regulate the establishment, permitting, design, construction, operation and management of any class I facility. Such rules and regulations shall be designed to afford a prudent degree of environmental protection while accommodating modern agricultural practices.

2. If a decision on any application concerning a concentrated animal feeding operation cannot be rendered by the department within ninety days of the receipt of the completed application, the director shall establish, publish, and post on the department website a time line under which such application shall be considered and decided. Immediately following establishment of the time line, the director shall arrange for its publication for a period of ten days in the newspaper of each county or incorporated city, town, or village to be affected by the permit application. The time line shall be posted on the department's website for the duration of time the application is open for consideration.

[4.] 5. The department may, upon review of the information contained in the site plan including, but not limited to, the prevailing winds, topography and other local environmental factors, authorize a distance which is less than the distance prescribed in subsection 2 of this section. The department's recommendation shall be sent to the governing body of the county in which such site is proposed. The department's authorized buffer distance shall become effective unless the county governing body rejects the department's recommendation by a majority vote at the next meeting of the governing body after the recommendation is received.

A civil monetary penalty under this section shall not be assessed for a violation where an administrative penalty was assessed under section 643.085. The commission may request the attorney general or other counsel to bring such action in the name of the people of the state of Missouri. Process may be served in any manner provided by chapter 506, RSMo, including but not limited to sections 506.510 and 506.520, RSMo. The surcharge shall be an amount equal to the sum of the penalty assessed under subsection 3 of this section for the current citation plus all the fines assessed against the violator during the thirty-six month period prior to the date the citation was issued.

6. The proceeds of any surcharge assessed under subsection 5 of this section shall be deposited into the “Air Pollution Enforcement Fund”, which is hereby established and shall be administered by the department. One half of all moneys in the fund shall be utilized exclusively to enforce the provisions of this section and one half of all moneys in the fund shall be transferred at least annually to the state school moneys fund as established in section 166.051, RSMo, and distributed to the public schools of this state in the manner provided in section 163.031, RSMo.

[5.] 9. No liability shall be imposed upon persons violating the provisions of sections 643.010 to 643.190 or any rule hereunder due to any violation caused by an act of God, war, strike, riot or other catastrophe.

10. Upon any change in sections 643.010 to 643.190 or in the commission's regulations promulgated thereunder, the director may correspondingly adjust, by rule, the number of violations in any twelve or thirty-six month period that shall be considered a persistent violation under subsection 4 of this section, provided that any such adjustment shall keep the ratio of violations to time period reasonably consistent with the intent of the ratio in subsection 4 of this section.

644.076. 1. It is unlawful for any person to cause or permit any discharge of water contaminants from any water contaminant or point source located in Missouri in violation of sections 644.006 to 644.141, or any standard, rule or regulation promulgated by the commission. In the event the commission or the director determines that any provision of sections 644.006 to 644.141 or standard, rules, limitations or regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, or permits issued by, or any final abatement order, other order, or determination made by the commission or the director, or any filing requirement pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any other provision which this state is required to enforce pursuant to any federal water pollution control act, is being, was, or is in imminent danger of being violated, the commission or director may cause to have instituted a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction for the injunctive relief to prevent any such violation or further violation or for the assessment of a penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, the violation occurred and continues to occur, or both, as the court deems proper. A civil monetary penalty pursuant to this section shall not be assessed for a violation where an administrative penalty was assessed pursuant to section 644.079. The commission, the chair of a watershed district's board of trustees created under section 249.1150, RSMo, or the director may request either the attorney general or a prosecuting attorney to bring any action authorized in this section in the name of the people of the state of Missouri. Suit may be brought in any county where the defendant's principal place of business is located or where the water contaminant or point source is located or was located at the time the violation occurred. Any offer of settlement to resolve a civil penalty pursuant to this section shall be in writing, shall state that an action for imposition of a civil penalty may be initiated by the attorney general or a prosecuting attorney representing the department pursuant to this section, and shall identify any dollar amount as an offer of settlement which shall be negotiated in good faith through conference, conciliation and persuasion.

2. Except as provided otherwise in subsection 9 of this section, for the purposes of this subsection, the term "persistent violation" shall mean any concentrated animal feeding operation or recycling company that converts animal parts into petroleum that the commission or the director has found to have violated the provisions of this section at least six times during any twelve-month period or at least twelve times during any thirty-six month period.

3. During any thirty-six month period, any concentrated animal feeding operation or recycling company that converts animal parts into petroleum that the commission or director has found to have violated the provisions of this section on more than one occasion shall be subject to a surcharge in addition to the civil penalties assessed under subsection 1 of this section. The surcharge shall be an amount equal to the sum of the penalty assessed under subsection 1 of this section for the current citation plus all the fines assessed against the violator during the thirty-six month period prior to the date the citation was issued.

4. The proceeds of any surcharge assessed under subsection 3 of this section shall be deposited into the “Water Pollution Enforcement Fund”, which is hereby established and shall be administered by the department. One half of all moneys in the fund shall be utilized exclusively to enforce the provisions of this section, and one half of all the moneys in the fund shall be transferred at least annually to the state school moneys fund as established in section 166.051, RSMo, and distributed to the public schools of this state in the manner provided in section 163.031, RSMo.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, moneys in the water pollution enforcement fund shall not revert to general revenue. The state treasurer shall invest the moneys from the fund in the same manner as other state funds are invested. Interest accruing to the fund shall be deposited in the fund and shall not be transferred to general revenue.

6. Any person who knowingly makes any false statement, representation or certification in any application, record, report, plan, or other document filed or required to be maintained pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141 or who falsifies, tampers with, or knowingly renders inaccurate any monitoring device or method required to be maintained pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141 shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both.

[3.] 7. Any person who willfully or negligently commits any violation set forth pursuant to subsection 1 of this section shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than two thousand five hundred dollars nor more than twenty-five thousand dollars per day of violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Second and successive convictions for violation of the same provision of this section by any person shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty thousand dollars per day of violation, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

[4.] 8. The liabilities which shall be imposed pursuant to any provision of sections 644.006 to 644.141 upon persons violating the provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any standard, rule, limitation, or regulation adopted pursuant thereto shall not be imposed due to any violation caused by an act of God, war, strike, riot, or other catastrophe.

9. Upon any change in sections 644.006 to 644.141 or in the commission's regulations promulgated thereunder, the director may correspondingly adjust, by rule, the number of violations in any twelve or thirty-six month period that shall be considered a persistent violation under subsection 2 of this section, provided that any such adjustment shall keep the ratio of violations to time period reasonably consistent with the intent of the ratio in subsection 2 of this section.”; and

Senator Barnitz offered SA 5:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 898, Page 51, Section 348.505, Line 8 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“348.515. In recognition of the role of animal agriculture in the economic well-being of this state and in recognition that opportunities to succeed in agriculture should not be limited by the economic means of persons engaged in agriculture, the general assembly of the state of Missouri declares that state assistance in the guarantee of loans made to enable independent livestock and poultry family farm operations to succeed in the operation will benefit the state of Missouri economically and socially and is a public purpose of great importance.

348.518. 1. In addition to the duties and powers established in sections 348.005 to 348.505, the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority shall develop and implement a livestock feed and crop input loan guarantee program as provided in sections 348.515 to 348.533. The authority may promulgate rules necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 348.515 to 348.533. The rules promulgated under sections 348.515 to 348.533 shall be designed to encourage maximum involvement and participation by lenders and financial institutions in the loan guarantee program. The authority shall be the administrative agency for the implementation of the loan guarantee program, and may employ such persons as necessary, within the limits of appropriations made for that purpose, to administer the loan guarantee program.

2. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2008, shall be invalid and void.

348.521. 1. The authority may issue certificates of guaranty covering a first loss guarantee up to but not more than fifty percent of the loan on a declining principal basis for loans to individuals executing a note or other evidence of a loan made for livestock feed or crop input, but not to exceed the amount of forty thousand dollars for any one individual and to pay from the livestock feed and crop input loan guarantee fund to an eligible lender up to fifty percent of the amount on a declining principal basis of any loss on any guaranteed loan made under the provisions of sections 348.515 to 348.533, in the event of default on the loan. Upon payment of the loan, the authority shall be subrogated to all the rights of the eligible lender.

2. As used in sections 348.515 to 348.533, the term “eligible lender” means those entities defined as “lenders” under subdivision (8) of section 348.015.

3. The authority shall charge for each guaranteed loan a one-time participation fee of fifty dollars which shall be collected by the lender at the time of closing and paid to the authority. Amounts so collected shall be deposited in the livestock feed and crop input loan program fund and used, upon appropriation, to pay the costs of administering the program.

4. All moneys paid to satisfy a defaulted guaranteed loan shall only be paid out of the livestock feed and crop input loan guarantee fund established by sections 348.515 to 348.533.

5. The total outstanding guaranteed loans shall at no time exceed an amount which, according to sound actuarial judgment, would allow immediate redemption of twenty percent of the outstanding loans guaranteed by the fund at any one time.

348.524. 1. There is hereby established in the state treasury the “Livestock Feed and Crop Input Loan Guarantee Fund”. The fund shall consist of money appropriated to it by the general assembly, charges, gifts, grants and bequests from federal, private or other sources. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, no portion of the fund shall be transferred to the general revenue fund.

2. All moneys received by the authority for payments made on previously defaulted guaranteed loans shall be paid promptly into the state treasury and deposited in the fund.

3. The fund shall be administered by the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority organized under sections 348.005 to 348.180.

4. Beginning with fiscal year 2009, the general assembly may appropriate moneys not to exceed four million dollars for the establishment and initial funding of the livestock feed and crop input loan guarantee fund.

348.527. Moneys in the fund, both unobligated and obligated as a reserve, which in the judgment of the authority are not currently needed for payments of defaults of guaranteed loans, may be invested by the state treasurer, and any income therefrom shall be deposited to the credit of the fund.

348.530. 1. Persons eligible for guarantees for loans under the provisions of sections 348.515 to 348.533 are individuals engaged in farming operations as defined in section 348.015, who intend to use the proceeds from the loan to finance the purchase of livestock feed used to produce livestock or input used to produce crops for the feeding of livestock, and who are seeking a loan or loans to finance not more than ninety percent of the anticipated cost.

2. The authority shall adopt and promulgate rules establishing eligibility under the provisions of sections 348.515 to 348.533, taking into consideration the individual's ability to repay the loan, the general economic conditions of the area in which the individual will be located, the prospect of success of the particular farm operation for which the loan is sought and such other factors as the authority may establish. The eligibility of any person for a loan guarantee under the provisions of sections 348.515 to 348.533 shall not be determined or otherwise affected by any consideration of that person's race, religion, sex, creed, color, or location of residence. The authority may also provide for:

- (1) The manner and time of repayment of the principal and interest;
- (2) The right of the borrower to accelerate payments without penalty;
- (3) The amount of the guaranty charge;
- (4) The effective period of the guaranty;
- (5) The percent of the loan, not to exceed fifty percent, covered by the guaranty;
- (6) The assignability of loans by the lender;
- (7) Procedures in event of default by the borrower;
- (8) The due diligence effort on the part of lenders for collection of guaranteed loans;
- (9) Collection assistance to be provided to lenders; and
- (10) The extension of the guaranty in consideration of duty in the armed forces, unemployment, natural disasters, or other hardships.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 6

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 898, Page 20, Section 142.028, Line 28, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“142.815. 1. Motor fuel used for the following nonhighway purposes is exempt from the fuel tax imposed by this chapter, and a refund may be claimed by the consumer, except as provided for in subsection (1) of this section, if the tax has been paid and no refund has been previously issued:

(1) Motor fuel used for nonhighway purposes including fuel for farm tractors or stationary engines owned or leased and operated by any person and used exclusively for agricultural purposes and including, beginning January 1, 2006, bulk sales of one hundred gallons or more of gasoline made to farmers and delivered by the ultimate vender to a farm location for agricultural purposes only. As used in this section, the term “farmer” shall mean any person engaged in farming in an authorized farm corporation, family farm, or family farm corporation as defined in section 350.010, RSMo. At the discretion of the ultimate vender, the refund may be claimed by the ultimate vender on behalf of the consumer for sales made to farmers and to persons engaged in construction for agricultural purposes as defined in section 142.800. After December 31, 2000, the refund may be claimed only by the consumer and may not be claimed by the ultimate vender unless bulk sales of gasoline are made to a farmer after January 1, 2006, as provided in this subdivision and the farmer provides an exemption certificate to the ultimate vender, in which case the ultimate vender may make a claim for refund under section 142.824 but shall be liable for any erroneous refund;

(2) Kerosene sold for use as fuel to generate power in aircraft engines, whether in aircraft or for training, testing or research purposes of aircraft engines;

(3) Diesel fuel used as heating oil, or in railroad locomotives or any other motorized flanged-wheel rail equipment, or used for other nonhighway purposes other than as expressly exempted pursuant to another provision.

2. Subject to the procedural requirements and conditions set out in this chapter, the following uses are exempt from the tax imposed by section 142.803 on motor fuel, and a deduction or a refund may be claimed:

(1) Motor fuel for which proof of export is available in the form of a terminal-issued destination state shipping paper and which is either:

(a) Exported by a supplier who is licensed in the destination state or through the bulk transfer system;

(b) Removed by a licensed distributor for immediate export to a state for which all the applicable taxes and fees (however nominated in that state) of the destination state have been paid to the supplier, as a trustee, who is licensed to remit tax to the destination state; or which is destined for use within the destination state by the federal government for which an exemption has been made available by the destination state subject to procedural rules and regulations promulgated by the director; or

(c) Acquired by a licensed distributor and which the tax imposed by this chapter has previously been paid or accrued either as a result of being stored outside of the bulk transfer system immediately prior to loading or as a diversion across state boundaries properly reported in conformity with this chapter and was subsequently exported from this state on behalf of the distributor;

The exemption pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be claimed by a deduction on the report of the supplier which is otherwise responsible for remitting the tax upon removal of the product from a terminal or refinery in this state. The exemption pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision shall be claimed by the distributor, upon a refund application made to the director within three years. A refund claim may be made monthly or whenever the claim exceeds one thousand dollars;

(2) Undyed K-1 kerosene sold at retail through dispensers which have been designed and constructed to prevent delivery directly from the dispenser into a vehicle fuel supply tank, and undyed K-1 kerosene sold at retail through nonbarricaded dispensers in quantities of not more than twenty-one gallons for use other than for highway purposes. Exempt use of undyed kerosene shall be governed by rules and regulations of the director. If no rules or regulations are promulgated by the director, then the exempt use of undyed kerosene shall be governed by rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service. A distributor or supplier delivering to a retail facility shall obtain an exemption certificate from the owner or operator of such facility stating that its sales conform to the dispenser requirements of this subdivision. A licensed distributor, having obtained such certificate, may provide a copy to his or her supplier and obtain undyed kerosene without the tax levied by section 142.803. Having obtained such certificate in good faith, such supplier shall be relieved of any responsibility if the fuel is later used in a taxable manner. An ultimate vendor who obtained undyed kerosene upon which the tax levied by section 142.803 had been paid and makes sales qualifying pursuant to this subsection may apply for a refund of the tax pursuant to application, as provided in section 142.818, to the director provided the ultimate vendor did not charge such tax to the consumer;

(3) Motor fuel sold to the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof. This exemption shall be claimed as provided in section 142.818;

(4) Motor fuel used solely and exclusively as fuel to propel school buses, as such term is defined under subdivision (19) of section 302.010, RSMo, on the public roads and highways of this state when leased or owned and when being operated by a public school district of this state, or leased or owned by a person under contract with such district for the provision of bus services for educational purposes. The exemption for use under this subdivision shall be made available to the school district for whose educational purposes the fuel is consumed, whether the fuel was purchased by such school district or by another under a contract to provide bus service for such school district, upon a refund application stating that the motor fuel was purchased for the exclusive use of the school districts.

(5) Motor fuel used solely and exclusively as fuel to propel motor vehicles on the public roads and highways of this state when leased or owned and when being operated by a federally recognized Indian tribe in the performance of essential governmental functions, such as providing police, fire, health or water services. The exemption for use pursuant to this subdivision shall be made available to the tribal government upon a refund application stating that the motor fuel was purchased for the exclusive use of the tribe in performing named essential governmental services;

[(5)] (6) Motor fuel sold within an Indian reservation or within Indian country by a federally recognized Indian tribe to a member of that tribe and used in motor vehicles owned by a member of the tribe within Indian country. This exemption does not apply to sales within an Indian reservation or within Indian country by a federally recognized Indian tribe to non-Indian consumers or to Indian consumers who are not members of the tribe selling the motor fuel. This exemption shall be administered as provided in section 142.821;

[(6)] (7) That portion of motor fuel used to operate equipment attached to a motor vehicle, if the motor fuel was placed into the fuel supply tank of a motor vehicle that has a common fuel reservoir for travel on a highway and for the operation of equipment, or if the motor fuel was placed in a separate fuel tank and used only for the operation of auxiliary equipment. The exemption for use pursuant to this subdivision shall be claimed by a refund claim filed by the consumer who shall provide evidence of an allocation of use satisfactory to the director;

[(7)] (8) Motor fuel acquired by a consumer out-of-state and carried into this state, retained within and consumed from the same vehicle fuel supply tank within which it was imported, except interstate motor fuel users;

[(8)] (9) Motor fuel which was purchased tax-paid and which was lost or destroyed as a direct result of a sudden and unexpected casualty or which had been accidentally contaminated so as to be unsalable as highway fuel as shown by proper documentation as required by the director. The exemption pursuant to this subdivision shall be refunded to the person or entity owning the motor fuel at the time of the contamination or loss. Such person shall notify the director in writing of such event and the amount of motor fuel lost or contaminated within ten days from the date of discovery of such loss or contamination, and within thirty days after such notice, shall file an affidavit sworn to by the person having immediate custody of such motor fuel at the time of the loss or contamination, setting forth in full the circumstances and the amount of the loss or contamination and such other information with respect thereto as the director may require;

[(9)] (10) Dyed diesel fuel or dyed kerosene used for an exempt purpose. This exemption shall be claimed as follows:

(a) A supplier or importer shall take a deduction against motor fuel tax owed on their monthly report for those gallons of dyed diesel fuel or dyed kerosene imported or removed from a terminal or refinery destined for delivery to a point in this state as shown on the shipping papers;

(b) This exemption shall be claimed by a deduction on the report of the supplier which is otherwise responsible for remitting the tax on removal of the product from a terminal or refinery in this state;

(c) This exemption shall be claimed by the distributor, upon a refund application made to the director within three years. A refund claim may be made monthly or whenever the claim exceeds one thousand dollars.”; and

If the amount of tax credits claimed under this section exceeds eight million five hundred thousand dollars in any one fiscal year, the director of the department of revenue shall establish a procedure by which, from the beginning of the fiscal year until some point in time later in the fiscal year to be determined by the director, the cumulative amount of tax credits are equally apportioned among all taxpayers allowed a tax credit under this section. CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Green offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 36

WHEREAS, the U.S. Air Force announced one of the largest military acquisition programs in U.S. history, saying the service had chosen Northrop Grumman over Boeing to replace its aging air refueling tanker fleet; and

WHEREAS, members of the Missouri General Assembly are shocked that the United States Air Force selected a European company and its foreign workers to provide a tanker to our American military; and

WHEREAS, at a time when the U.S. economy is hurting, this decision to outsource U.S. tankers is a blow to the American aerospace industry, American workers and America's military; and

WHEREAS, Boeing has 75 years of experience building tankers, and its workers are the best in the world; and

WHEREAS, it's stunning that the U.S. Air Force would outsource the production of these airplanes to Europe instead of building them in America; and

WHEREAS, Missouri workers rely on a thriving U.S. aerospace industry; and

WHEREAS, awarding the contract to Boeing, and not Airbus, would have created more than 44,000 jobs in Washington, Kansas, and other states; and

WHEREAS, this decision was about whether U.S. workers or European workers will produce the aircraft used as tankers for the U.S. Air Force for decades in the future; and

WHEREAS, the Boeing tanker takes advantage of 50 years of aerial refueling technology experience; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 Advance Tanker is the best aircraft for the job. It makes sense for U.S. military aircraft programs, which are funded by American taxpayer dollars, to be designed and built by American companies that provide jobs to U.S. citizens; and

WHEREAS, approving the Boeing KC-767 Advanced Tanker would have given our men and women in the U.S. Air Force the best product, with the most advanced technology, available today; and

WHEREAS, Missouri is home to Boeing Integrated Defense Systems team, Phantom Works, Boeing's advanced research and development unit, and Boeing's Shared Services Group:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby condemn the actions of the United States Air Force in outsourcing jobs by failing to award the contract to replace the refueling tanker fleet to an American company; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly calls upon the members of the Missouri congressional delegation to ask tough questions to the U.S. Air Force regarding how it reached this decision, including the selection process used to make this decision; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to each member of the Missouri congressional delegation and the Secretary of the Air Force.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Gibbons offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 37

WHEREAS, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service has mandated a man-made “spring rise” for the Missouri River that is purportedly necessary for the survival of the pallid sturgeon, an endangered species; and

WHEREAS, many residents of Missouri recently suffered devastating losses of life and damage to property caused by flash flooding and swelled rivers to the extent that President Bush declared seventy Missouri counties as federal disaster areas, five deaths have been attributed to the flooding, and thousands were forced to evacuate their homes and businesses; and

WHEREAS, accurately controlling upstream discharges for the “spring rise” is extremely difficult because Missouri weather and flooding are unpredictable, as evidenced by the recent widespread flooding that has occurred in the state; and

WHEREAS, once water is released for the “spring rise” there are no intervening dams or locks to halt the rise during the ten-day travel time from Gavins Point Dam in South Dakota to St. Louis, Missouri, thereby increasing the risk that such a rise would compound flooding problems resulting from another major rain event; and

WHEREAS, on April 11, 2005, the Judge of the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals recognized that a man-made “spring rise” was the intentional flooding of downstream stakeholders; and

WHEREAS, federal agencies should not be implementing plans that are known to harm Missouri's farmers solely for the purposes of an experiment to determine whether the “spring rise” will trigger spawning of the pallid sturgeon; and

WHEREAS, a “spring rise” will exacerbate drainage problems on agricultural land which will delay crop planting, destroy crops, and require additional pumping at additional costs for Missouri farmers; and

WHEREAS, by using water in the spring that is needed to support navigation and other uses in the summer, a “spring rise” will shorten the navigation season during times of water shortages causing additional financial burdens on shippers, commercial carriers, and producers; and

WHEREAS, Missouri infrastructure, communities, businesses, farmers, ranchers, and the economy all will be put at an increased risk of flooding in the event of a “spring rise”; and

WHEREAS, it is unjust for Missouri consumers, communities, businesses, commercial carriers, farmers and ranchers to bear any additional direct or indirect costs for an unproven experimental plan; and

WHEREAS, many businesses and residential communities along the Missouri River suffered great devastation after the flood of 1993 and many businesses and residential communities in the state have suffered flooding problems again this spring; the intentional flooding of the river through a “spring rise” enhances the risk that such destruction will once again visit Missouri communities, making it harder and ultimately less attractive to rebuild; and

WHEREAS, the economic responsibilities that individual families and businesses have to bear in the face of a devastating flood are enormous; to compound and confuse that responsibility with the uncertainties that accompany a “spring rise” places a heavier burden on the backs of those families and businesses:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby concur with the Governor of the State of Missouri that all reasonable and necessary action should be taken to prevent the planned man-made “spring rise”; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, respectfully encourage the United States Army Corps of Engineers not to implement an artificial “spring rise,” which would increase the risk of flooding for Missourians, thereby being in violation of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals' ruling, which held that flood control and navigation are the dominant uses of the Missouri River; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Governor of Missouri and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Senator Smith offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 38

WHEREAS, the Fourth Amendment of the United States Constitution protects Americans against unreasonable searches and seizures; and

WHEREAS, the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 requires that an order be obtained from the United States Foreign Intelligence Court to engage in surveillance of communications between individuals located in the United States and individuals located abroad; and

WHEREAS, the Bush Administration ordered surveillance of certain individuals located in the United States without an order obtained from the U.S. Foreign Intelligence Court; and

WHEREAS, it appears that some telecommunications companies may have participated in such unlawful government-sanctioned spying by voluntarily providing information about their customers' telecommunications activities to the federal government without their customers' consent or in the absence of a lawful court order; and

WHEREAS, the Bush Administration has proposed retroactive immunity for such telecommunications companies:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress not to grant retroactive immunity to telecommunications companies who have participated in the unlawful surveillance of their customers and the sharing of such information with the federal government; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Shields offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 39

WHEREAS, public and teaching hospitals in Missouri serve as an integral part of the safety net system in this state. Major teaching hospitals account for approximately twenty-five percent of all Medicaid discharges; and

WHEREAS, currently there are thirty-three teaching hospitals and mental health centers in Missouri receiving graduate medical education funds. Such funding is used to train cardiologists, oncologists, neurologists, pediatricians, and numerous other types of physicians; and

WHEREAS, such hospitals are recognized for offering the most advanced and state-of-the-art services. Therefore, such training for the future health care workforce is an important and critical policy objective for this state; and

WHEREAS, such public and teaching hospitals are concerned about proposed regulations from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services asserting that the federal Medicaid program lacks statutory authority to match payments for direct graduate medical education and activities. Such a rule change represents a significant reversal of long-standing Medicaid policy; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri will annually lose between 65 and 70 million dollars in lost federal funding starting May 25, 2008, should the rule take effect; and

WHEREAS, Truman Medical Center, in particular, is concerned that the proposed regulations would narrow the definition of "public" so that many current public hospitals, including Truman Medical Center, would no longer qualify as public for purposes of providing the local match required to obtain federal Medicaid funds. Initial estimates of the impact to Truman Medical Center is that it would exceed $37 million in lost Medicaid funding; and

WHEREAS, United States Representative Engel has introduced HR 3533, the Public and Teaching Hospital Preservation Act, in the House of Representatives extending the proposed rule by one year until May 25, 2009, prohibiting implementation of the proposed rule on Medicaid match for direct graduate medical education:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby request that the Missouri Congressional delegation ask the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to withdraw this rule or delay implementation until May 25, 2009; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation and to the administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Shields offered Senate Resolution No. 2119, regarding the Fiftieth Anniversary of North Kansas City Hospital, which was adopted.

Senator Gibbons offered Senate Resolution No. 2120, regarding members of Phi Theta Kappa's All-Missouri Academic Team and the Missouri Community College Association, which was adopted.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FORTIETH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Rupp in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“...the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth, that God governs the affairs of men.” (Benjamin Franklin)

Governing Lord, we too recognize that our country was founded upon a rock of prayer and Your Holy Word. Let us gain the wisdom of our founding fathers that in their time came from differing points of view and conditions in which they lived. But like them let us find those areas of common ground so that we might work together to produce legislation that benefits and motivates our people to live in harmony and productive ways. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The signs shall be placed upon the state highways in accordance with this section, placement guidelines adopted by the department, and any applicable federal limitations or conditions on highway signage, including location and spacing.

2. The department shall adopt, by rules and regulations, program guidelines for the application for and placement of signs authorized by this section, including, but not limited to, the sign application and qualification process, the procedure for the dedication of signs, and procedures for the replacement or restoration of any signs that are damaged or stolen. The department shall also establish by rule, application procedures and methods for proving eligibility for the program.

3. Any person may apply to the department of transportation to sponsor a drunk driving victim memorial sign in memory of an immediate family member who died as a result of a motor vehicle accident caused by a person who was shown to have been operating a motor vehicle in violation of section 577.010 or 577.012, RSMo, or was committing an intoxication-related traffic offense at the time of the accident. Upon the request of an immediate family member of the deceased victim involved in a drunk driving accident, the department shall place a sign in accordance with this section. A person who is not a member of the immediate family may also submit a request to have a sign placed under this section if that person also submits the written consent of an immediate family member. The department shall charge the sponsoring party a fee to cover the department's cost in designing, constructing, placing, and maintaining that sign, and the department's costs in administering this section. Signs erected under this section shall remain in place for a period of ten years. After the expiration of the ten-year period, the department shall remove the sign unless the sponsoring party remits to the department of transportation a ten-year renewable fee to cover maintenance costs associated with the sign.

“142.815. 1. Motor fuel used for the following nonhighway purposes is exempt from the fuel tax imposed by this chapter, and a refund may be claimed by the consumer, except as provided for in subsection (1) of this section, if the tax has been paid and no refund has been previously issued:

(1) Motor fuel used for nonhighway purposes including fuel for farm tractors or stationary engines owned or leased and operated by any person and used exclusively for agricultural purposes and including, beginning January 1, 2006, bulk sales of one hundred gallons or more of gasoline made to farmers and delivered by the ultimate vender to a farm location for agricultural purposes only. As used in this section, the term “farmer” shall mean any person engaged in farming in an authorized farm corporation, family farm, or family farm corporation as defined in section 350.010, RSMo. At the discretion of the ultimate vender, the refund may be claimed by the ultimate vender on behalf of the consumer for sales made to farmers and to persons engaged in construction for agricultural purposes as defined in section 142.800. After December 31, 2000, the refund may be claimed only by the consumer and may not be claimed by the ultimate vender unless bulk sales of gasoline are made to a farmer after January 1, 2006, as provided in this subdivision and the farmer provides an exemption certificate to the ultimate vender, in which case the ultimate vender may make a claim for refund under section 142.824 but shall be liable for any erroneous refund;

(2) Kerosene sold for use as fuel to generate power in aircraft engines, whether in aircraft or for training, testing or research purposes of aircraft engines;

(3) Diesel fuel used as heating oil, or in railroad locomotives or any other motorized flanged-wheel rail equipment, or used for other nonhighway purposes other than as expressly exempted pursuant to another provision.

2. Subject to the procedural requirements and conditions set out in this chapter, the following uses are exempt from the tax imposed by section 142.803 on motor fuel, and a deduction or a refund may be claimed:

(1) Motor fuel for which proof of export is available in the form of a terminal-issued destination state shipping paper and which is either:

(a) Exported by a supplier who is licensed in the destination state or through the bulk transfer system;

(b) Removed by a licensed distributor for immediate export to a state for which all the applicable taxes and fees (however nominated in that state) of the destination state have been paid to the supplier, as a trustee, who is licensed to remit tax to the destination state; or which is destined for use within the destination state by the federal government for which an exemption has been made available by the destination state subject to procedural rules and regulations promulgated by the director; or

(c) Acquired by a licensed distributor and which the tax imposed by this chapter has previously been paid or accrued either as a result of being stored outside of the bulk transfer system immediately prior to loading or as a diversion across state boundaries properly reported in conformity with this chapter and was subsequently exported from this state on behalf of the distributor;

The exemption pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be claimed by a deduction on the report of the supplier which is otherwise responsible for remitting the tax upon removal of the product from a terminal or refinery in this state. The exemption pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision shall be claimed by the distributor, upon a refund application made to the director within three years. A refund claim may be made monthly or whenever the claim exceeds one thousand dollars;

(2) Undyed K-1 kerosene sold at retail through dispensers which have been designed and constructed to prevent delivery directly from the dispenser into a vehicle fuel supply tank, and undyed K-1 kerosene sold at retail through nonbarricaded dispensers in quantities of not more than twenty-one gallons for use other than for highway purposes. Exempt use of undyed kerosene shall be governed by rules and regulations of the director. If no rules or regulations are promulgated by the director, then the exempt use of undyed kerosene shall be governed by rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service. A distributor or supplier delivering to a retail facility shall obtain an exemption certificate from the owner or operator of such facility stating that its sales conform to the dispenser requirements of this subdivision. A licensed distributor, having obtained such certificate, may provide a copy to his or her supplier and obtain undyed kerosene without the tax levied by section 142.803. Having obtained such certificate in good faith, such supplier shall be relieved of any responsibility if the fuel is later used in a taxable manner. An ultimate vendor who obtained undyed kerosene upon which the tax levied by section 142.803 had been paid and makes sales qualifying pursuant to this subsection may apply for a refund of the tax pursuant to application, as provided in section 142.818, to the director provided the ultimate vendor did not charge such tax to the consumer;

(3) Motor fuel sold to the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof. This exemption shall be claimed as provided in section 142.818;

(4) Motor fuel used solely and exclusively as fuel to propel school buses, as such term is defined under subdivision (19) of section 302.010, RSMo, on the public roads and highways of this state when leased or owned and when being operated by a public school district of this state, or leased or owned by a person under contract with such district for the provision of bus services for educational purposes. The exemption for use under this subdivision shall be made available to the school district for whose educational purposes the fuel is consumed, whether the fuel was purchased by such school district or by another under a contract to provide bus service for such school district, upon a refund application stating that the motor fuel was purchased for the exclusive use of the school districts.

(5) Motor fuel used solely and exclusively as fuel to propel motor vehicles on the public roads and highways of this state when leased or owned and when being operated by a federally recognized Indian tribe in the performance of essential governmental functions, such as providing police, fire, health or water services. The exemption for use pursuant to this subdivision shall be made available to the tribal government upon a refund application stating that the motor fuel was purchased for the exclusive use of the tribe in performing named essential governmental services;

[(5)] (6) Motor fuel sold within an Indian reservation or within Indian country by a federally recognized Indian tribe to a member of that tribe and used in motor vehicles owned by a member of the tribe within Indian country. This exemption does not apply to sales within an Indian reservation or within Indian country by a federally recognized Indian tribe to non-Indian consumers or to Indian consumers who are not members of the tribe selling the motor fuel. This exemption shall be administered as provided in section 142.821;

[(6)] (7) That portion of motor fuel used to operate equipment attached to a motor vehicle, if the motor fuel was placed into the fuel supply tank of a motor vehicle that has a common fuel reservoir for travel on a highway and for the operation of equipment, or if the motor fuel was placed in a separate fuel tank and used only for the operation of auxiliary equipment. The exemption for use pursuant to this subdivision shall be claimed by a refund claim filed by the consumer who shall provide evidence of an allocation of use satisfactory to the director;

[(7)] (8) Motor fuel acquired by a consumer out-of-state and carried into this state, retained within and consumed from the same vehicle fuel supply tank within which it was imported, except interstate motor fuel users;

[(8)] (9) Motor fuel which was purchased tax-paid and which was lost or destroyed as a direct result of a sudden and unexpected casualty or which had been accidentally contaminated so as to be unsalable as highway fuel as shown by proper documentation as required by the director. The exemption pursuant to this subdivision shall be refunded to the person or entity owning the motor fuel at the time of the contamination or loss. Such person shall notify the director in writing of such event and the amount of motor fuel lost or contaminated within ten days from the date of discovery of such loss or contamination, and within thirty days after such notice, shall file an affidavit sworn to by the person having immediate custody of such motor fuel at the time of the loss or contamination, setting forth in full the circumstances and the amount of the loss or contamination and such other information with respect thereto as the director may require;

[(9)] (10) Dyed diesel fuel or dyed kerosene used for an exempt purpose. This exemption shall be claimed as follows:

(a) A supplier or importer shall take a deduction against motor fuel tax owed on their monthly report for those gallons of dyed diesel fuel or dyed kerosene imported or removed from a terminal or refinery destined for delivery to a point in this state as shown on the shipping papers;

(b) This exemption shall be claimed by a deduction on the report of the supplier which is otherwise responsible for remitting the tax on removal of the product from a terminal or refinery in this state;

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-FIRST DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Nodler in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“I pray for knowledge and experience of divine love everywhere around me and within me...I try to see the divine love from which each person springs.” (Anne Lamott)

Loving God, as we complete our work this day and return to our loved ones and the work that is there for us, we will meet many people, several new to us; and so we pray that we may experience Your divine love in them and treat them as we would You. Open us up to Your presence around us and help us communicate that awareness to others as well. And give us knowledge that will respond to people and situations in Your caring merciful way. And Father, we pray for Doorkeeper Ken Holman, that You will touch him with Your healing power and bring him to health and wholeness.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-SECOND DAY—MONDAY, MARCH 31, 2008

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Nodler in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Entreat the Lord; for there has been enough of this thunder and hail.” (Exodus 9:28)

Gracious Lord, we do entreat You to stop these storms for it seems every time we travel the weather has been challenging making us thankful for our safe arrival this day and an opportunity to serve You here. Lord, we appreciate gentle rains that wet the earth but we pray for an end to the violent storms that ravish the land and some of our land is flooding and destruction is increasing and loss of life has touched some about us; so we pray that You will comfort those who experience loss and hardship with Your presence. All this we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 858, 750, 751, 927, 1186, 1255, 1268 and 1269, Page 13, Section 208.009, Line 22, by inserting immediately after said line, the following:

“285.309. 1. Every employer doing business in this state who employs five or more employees shall, if applicable, submit federal 1099 miscellaneous forms to the department of revenue. Such forms shall be submitted to the department of revenue within the time lines established for the filing of Missouri Form 99 forms.

2. Any employer who intentionally, on five or more occasions, fails to submit information on any employee required under subsection 1 of this section is guilty of a class A misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars for each time the employer fails to submit the information on or after the fifth occurrence. If the failure is the result of a conspiracy between the employer and the employee or worker to not supply the required report or to supply a false or incomplete report, the fine shall be one thousand dollars for each failure to report or each false or incomplete report on and after the fifth occurrence.

285.500. For the purposes of sections 285.500 to 285.515 the following terms mean:

(1) “Employee”, any individual who performs services for an employer that would indicate an employer-employee relationship in satisfaction of the factors in IRS Rev. Rule 87-41, 1987-1 C.B.296.;

(2) “Employer”, any individual, organization, partnership, political subdivision, corporation, or other legal entity which has or had in the entity's employ five or more individuals performing any of the following services within this state:

- (a) Construction as defined in section 290.210, RSMo;
- (b) Public works as defined in section 290.210, RSMo;
- (c) Maintenance work as defined in section 290.210, RSMo.

285.503. 1. An employer knowingly misclassifies a worker if that employer fails to claim the worker as an employee but knows, or has reason to know, that worker is an employee.

2. The attorney general may investigate alleged or suspected violations of sections 285.500 to 285.515 and shall have all powers provided by sections 407.040 to 407.090, RSMo, in connection with any investigation of an alleged or suspected violation of sections 285.500 to 285.515 as if the acts enumerated in sections 285.500 to 285.515 are unlawful acts proscribed by chapter 407, RSMo.

3. In addition to the powers set out in subsection 1 of this section, the attorney general may serve and enforce subpoenas related to the enforcement of sections 285.500 to 285.515.

285.506. 1. In any action brought under sections 285.500 to 285.515, the state shall have the burden of proving that the employer misclassified the worker. If the state is unable to produce any evidence supporting its contention that the alleged misclassified worker is misclassified, the court shall find that the worker is not an employee for purposes of that action.

2. In any action brought under sections 285.500 to 285.515, there is a rebuttable presumption that a worker is an employee if the worker is an unauthorized alien as defined in 8 U.S.C. 1324a(h)(3). To rebut this presumption, the employer must produce an I-9 form to establish that the worker is not an unauthorized alien or other documentation to show that the worker is an independent contractor. If the employer fails to produce such evidence, the court shall find that the worker is an employee for purposes of that action.

285.509. 1. The department of labor and industrial relations shall establish a complaint form to receive complaints about alleged misclassification of workers. The form shall be made available on the Internet. Upon receiving a complaint, the department shall cross-check the complaint against any employer records it maintains and shall also cross-check the complaint against any records maintained by the department of revenue.

2. If the department determines, after conducting the review set out in subsection 1 of this section, that an employer appears to have misclassified a worker, it shall forward its determination along with supporting documentation to the attorney general.

3. Upon receiving the department's determination, the attorney general may request additional information or records from the department of labor and industrial relations, the department of revenue, or any other state agency that may have information or records relevant to the matter. Upon request, the department or other state agency shall provide the information or records requested. If the attorney general receives records that are otherwise closed pursuant to law, the attorney general shall likewise treat any such records obtained in the course of an investigation as closed records, except that such records may be used in the course of any action brought under sections 285.500 to 285.515.

4. The department of labor and industrial relations shall have the authority to promulgate rules necessary to administer the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2008, shall be invalid and void.

285.512. 1. Whenever the attorney general has reason to believe that an employer has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in any conduct that would be a violation of sections 285.500 to 285.515, the attorney general may seek an injunction prohibiting the employer from engaging in such conduct.

2. The attorney general may bring an action for injunctive relief in the circuit court of any county where the alleged violation is occurring or about to occur.

3. In seeking injunctive relief, the attorney general may petition the court to order that all work contracted for by the employer at any site of the employer be halted if the court determines that the employer has engaged in, or is about to engage in, any conduct that would be a violation of sections 285.500 to 285.515. In addition to such relief, the court may issue any other order or judgment necessary to prevent the employer from committing any further violations of sections 285.500 to 285.515.

285.515. 1. If a court determines that an employer has knowingly misclassified a worker, the court shall enter a judgment in favor of the state and award penalties in the amount of fifty dollars per day per misclassified worker up to a maximum of fifty thousand dollars to the Missouri worker protection fund established in section 285.518.

2. If a court determines that an employer has knowingly misclassified a worker after having been previously adjudicated for knowing misclassification of a worker, the court shall enter a judgment in favor of the state and award penalties in the amount of one hundred dollars per day per misclassified worker up to a maximum of one hundred thousand dollars to the Missouri worker protection fund established in section 285.518.

3. The court may, in addition to the penalties authorized by this section, order that attorneys' fees and costs be paid to the state.

4. The attorney general may enter into a consent judgment with any person alleged to have violated sections 285.500 to 285.515.

285.518. There is hereby created in the state treasury the "Missouri Worker Protection Fund", which shall consist of money collected under sections 285.500 to 285.515. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund and may approve disbursements from the fund in accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, RSMo. Upon appropriation, money in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of sections 285.500 to 285.515. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund. This fund shall be administered by the attorney general for the purposes of ensuring that Missouri employers hire employees and subcontract with workers who are not misclassified. The fund shall consist of:

- (1) All amounts ordered to be paid into the fund pursuant to section 285.515;
- (2) Any amounts appropriated to the fund; and
- (3) Any voluntary contributions, gifts, or bequests to the fund.”; and

Further amend said bill, section C, page 31, line 23 by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

“Section D. Because of the need to provide a level playing field for Missouri employers and workers, the provisions of sections 285.309 and 285.500 to 285.518 of this act are deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, welfare, peace, and safety, and are hereby declared to be an emergency within the meaning of the constitution, and sections 285.309 and 285.500 to 285.518 of this act shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval.”; and

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend Senate Bill No. 1007, Page 1, Section A, Line 3, by inserting immediately after said line, the following:

“285.309. 1. Every employer doing business in this state who employs five or more employees shall, if applicable, submit federal 1099 miscellaneous forms to the department of revenue. Such forms shall be submitted to the department of revenue within the time lines established for the filing of Missouri Form 99 forms.

2. Any employer who intentionally, on five or more occasions, fails to submit information on any employee required under subsection 1 of this section is guilty of a class A misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars for each time the employer fails to submit the information on or after the fifth occurrence. If the failure is the result of a conspiracy between the employer and the employee or worker to not supply the required report or to supply a false or incomplete report, the fine shall be one thousand dollars for each failure to report or each false or incomplete report on and after the fifth occurrence.

285.500. For the purposes of sections 285.500 to 285.515 the following terms mean:

(1) “Employee”, any individual who performs services for an employer that would indicate an employer-employee relationship in satisfaction of the factors in IRS Rev. Rule 87-41, 1987-1 C.B.296.;

(2) “Employer”, any individual, organization, partnership, political subdivision, corporation, or other legal entity which has or had in the entity's employ five or more individuals performing any of the following services within this state:

(a) Construction as defined in section 290.210, RSMo;

(b) Public works as defined in section 290.210, RSMo;

(c) Maintenance work as defined in section 290.210, RSMo.

285.503. 1. An employer knowingly misclassifies a worker if that employer fails to claim the worker as an employee but knows, or has reason to know, that worker is an employee.

2. The attorney general may investigate alleged or suspected violations of sections 285.500 to 285.515 and shall have all powers provided by sections 407.040 to 407.090, RSMo, in connection with any investigation of an alleged or suspected violation of sections 285.500 to 285.515 as if the acts enumerated in sections 285.500 to 285.515 are unlawful acts proscribed by chapter 407, RSMo.

3. In addition to the powers set out in subsection 1 of this section, the attorney general may serve and enforce subpoenas related to the enforcement of sections 285.500 to 285.515.

285.506. 1. In any action brought under sections 285.500 to 285.515, the state shall have the burden of proving that the employer misclassified the worker. If the state is unable to produce any evidence supporting its contention that the alleged misclassified worker is misclassified, the court shall find that the worker is not an employee for purposes of that action.

2. In any action brought under sections 285.500 to 285.515, there is a rebuttable presumption that a worker is an employee if the worker is an unauthorized alien as defined in 8 U.S.C. 1324a(h)(3). To rebut this presumption, the employer must produce an I-9 form to establish that the worker is not an unauthorized alien or other documentation to show that the worker is an independent contractor. If the employer fails to produce such evidence, the court shall find that the worker is an employee for purposes of that action.

285.509. 1. The department of labor and industrial relations shall establish a complaint form to receive complaints about alleged misclassification of workers. The form shall be made available on the Internet. Upon receiving a complaint, the department shall cross-check the complaint against any employer records it maintains and shall also cross-check the complaint against any records maintained by the department of revenue.

2. If the department determines, after conducting the review set out in subsection 1 of this section, that an employer appears to have misclassified a worker, it shall forward its determination along with supporting documentation to the attorney general.

3. Upon receiving the department's determination, the attorney general may request additional information or records from the department of labor and industrial relations, the department of revenue, or any other state agency that may have information or records relevant to the matter. Upon request, the department or other state agency shall provide the information or records requested. If the attorney general receives records that are otherwise closed pursuant to law, the attorney general shall likewise treat any such records obtained in the course of an investigation as closed records, except that such records may be used in the course of any action brought under sections 285.500 to 285.515.

4. The department of labor and industrial relations shall have the authority to promulgate rules necessary to administer the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2008, shall be invalid and void.

285.512. 1. Whenever the attorney general has reason to believe that an employer has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in any conduct that would be a violation of sections 285.500 to 285.515, the attorney general may seek an injunction prohibiting the employer from engaging in such conduct.

2. The attorney general may bring an action for injunctive relief in the circuit court of any county where the alleged violation is occurring or about to occur.

3. In seeking injunctive relief, the attorney general may petition the court to order that all work contracted for by the employer at any site of the employer be halted if the court determines that the employer has engaged in, or is about to engage in, any conduct that would be a violation of sections 285.500 to 285.515. In addition to such relief, the court may issue any other order or judgment necessary to prevent the employer from committing any further violations of sections 285.500 to 285.515.

285.515. 1. RESOLUTIONS

Senator Mayer offered Senate Resolution No. 2261, regarding Tyler Hall, Matthews, which was adopted.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Ridgeway offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 40

WHEREAS, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is charged with protecting the public from unreasonable risks of serious injury or death from more than 15,000 types of consumer products under the agency's jurisdiction. The CPSC has rated furniture tip-overs as number 3 of the top 5 hidden home hazards; and

WHEREAS, according to the CPSC, each year an estimated 3,000 children ages 5 and younger nationwide go to the emergency room with injuries caused by television sets falling or tipping over, and at least 100 people - mostly young children - have been killed since 2000 by falling televisions or other furniture; and

WHEREAS, in September of 2006, the CPSC warned parents and caregivers about the dangers of television sets and heavy furniture tipping over and killing young children. From 2000 to 2005, CPSC had reports of 36 television tip-over deaths and 65 furniture tip-over deaths. More than 80% of all these deaths involved young children; and

WHEREAS, the number of deaths due to furniture tip-overs is on the rise. In 2006, the CPSC reported 31 deaths from improperly secured furniture and televisions, with tip-overs resulting in an average of 22 deaths per year; and

WHEREAS, very heavy furniture items can potentially cause crush injuries, but more commonly when a large dresser, shelf, or home entertainment center tips, the resulting injury is often suffocation. Children become pinned between the tipping furniture and the bed or floor, unable to breathe or call for help, making it a nearly silent event; and

WHEREAS, the danger of tipping comes when a child tries to climb the front of a furniture piece. In these accidents, the child attempts to reach the top of the furniture piece by using a bottom drawer or shelf like a step. The weight of the furniture and the child pulling down in the front causes the whole piece to tilt forward. Heavy items on top of the furniture can fall on the child or the furniture piece itself can fall forward onto the child; and

WHEREAS, the committee of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) met in March 2007 to discuss and revise a proposed standard for testing tipping on dressers, armoires, and drawer chests. However, the ASTM can only establish voluntary standards and the proposed revised standard does not include other types of furniture such as entertainment centers, television stands, or any piece of furniture 30 inches in height or less; and

WHEREAS, while the ASTM, furniture executives, and consumer safety advocates are working together to form voluntary safety standards to address this issue, the increase in tipping furniture deaths and injuries to children demands mandatory regulation regarding labeling, furniture standards, and the use of anchoring devices:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress and the Consumer Product Safety Commission to immediately enact regulations that:

- (1) Strengthen incentives for use of the ASTM International's voluntary furniture safety standard for furniture tip-over hazards;
- (2) Strengthen incentives for use of warning labels on tip-over risks to be posted on all assembled and ready-to-assemble furniture and major appliances;
- (3) Strengthen incentives for all furniture and major appliances with a tip-over risk to come with anchoring devices that can be used to safely secure them to walls; and
- (4) Promote the dissemination of educational material and information to the public regarding furniture tip-over dangers and ease of prevention through the use of safety devices; and

SENATE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 39

WHEREAS, public and teaching hospitals in Missouri serve as an integral part of the safety net system in this state. Major teaching hospitals account for approximately twenty-five percent of all Medicaid discharges; and

WHEREAS, currently there are thirty-three teaching hospitals and mental health centers in Missouri receiving graduate medical education funds. Such funding is used to train cardiologists, oncologists, neurologists, pediatricians, and numerous other types of physicians; and

WHEREAS, such hospitals are recognized for offering the most advanced and state-of-the-art services. Therefore, such training for the future health care workforce is an important and critical policy objective for this state; and

WHEREAS, such public and teaching hospitals are concerned about proposed regulations from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services asserting that the federal Medicaid program lacks statutory authority to match payments for direct graduate medical education and activities. Such a rule change represents a significant reversal of long-standing Medicaid policy; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri will annually lose between 65 and 70 million dollars in lost federal funding starting May 25, 2008, should the rule take effect; and

WHEREAS, Truman Medical Center, in particular, is concerned that the proposed regulations would narrow the definition of "public" so that many current public hospitals, including Truman Medical Center, would no longer qualify as public for purposes of providing the local match required to obtain federal Medicaid funds. Initial estimates of the impact to Truman Medical Center are that it would exceed $37 million in lost Medicaid funding; and

WHEREAS, the United States House of Representatives is considering extending the proposed rule by one year until May 25, 2009, prohibiting implementation of the proposed rule on Medicaid match for direct graduate medical education:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby request that the Missouri Congressional delegation ask the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to withdraw this rule or delay implementation until May 25, 2009; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation and to the administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

President Pro Tem Gibbons assumed the Chair.

Senator Mayer, Chairman of the Committee on Education, submitted the following report:

Mr. President: Your Committee on Education, to which was referred SB 1158, begs leave to report that it has considered the same and recommends that the Senate Committee Substitute, hereto attached, do pass.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 23

Relating to the observance of Ronald Reagan Day in Missouri.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

Whereas, President Ronald Wilson Reagan, a man of humble background, worked throughout his life serving freedom and advancing the public good, having been employed as an entertainer, Union leader, corporate spokesman, Governor of California, and President of the United States; and

Whereas, Ronald Reagan served with honor and distinction for two terms as the 40th President of the United States of America, the second of which he earned the confidence of 60% of the electorate and was victorious in 49 of the 50 states in the general election - a record unsurpassed in the history of American presidential elections; and

Whereas, in 1981, when Ronald Reagan was inaugurated President, he inherited a disillusioned nation shackled by rampant inflation and high unemployment; and

Whereas, during Mr. Reagan's presidency, he worked in a bipartisan manner to enact his bold agenda of restoring accountability and common sense to government which led to an unprecedented economic expansion and opportunity for millions of Americans; and

Whereas, Mr Reagan's commitment to an active social policy agenda for the nation's children helped lower crime and drug use in our neighborhoods; and

Whereas, President Reagan's commitment to our armed forces contributed to the restoration of pride in America, her values and those cherished by the free world, and prepared America's Armed Forces to meet 21st Century challenges; and

Whereas, President Reagan's vision of "peace through strength" led to the end of the Cold War and the ultimate demise of the Soviet Union, guaranteeing basic human rights for millions of people; and

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby declare February 6th of each year to be "Ronald Reagan Day" in Missouri and urge all citizens of Missouri to recognize this event and participate fittingly in its observance; and

Whereas, competition in the voice communications industry is developing rapidly and is widespread in the State of Missouri; and

Whereas, Missouri law governing the telecommunications industry must evolve to meet the needs of Missouri consumers; and

Whereas, consumer choice in voice communications is available through the traditional wireline, wireless, cable, and interconnected voice over Internet protocol industries; and

Whereas, due to the complex nature of inter-carrier compensation, comprehensive study and discussion is required; and

Be it further resolved that the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a Joint Interim Committee on Voice Communications Regulation that is authorized to function during the legislative interim between the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly and the First Regular Session of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly to study the following:

(1) The need to make changes to the inter-carrier compensation system wherein voice communications providers exchange traffic on other provider's networks; and

(2) Such other matters as the Joint Interim Committee may deem necessary in order to determine the proper course of future legislative and budgetary action regarding inter-carrier compensation; and

Be it further resolved that the Joint Interim Committee shall prepare a final report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action deemed necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to commencement of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly; and

Be it further resolved that the Joint Interim Committee may solicit input and information necessary to fulfill its obligations, including but not limited to soliciting input and information from any state department or agency the Joint Interim Committee deems relevant, consumer advocates, political subdivisions of this State, and the general public; and

Be it further resolved that the staffs of House Research, the Joint Committee on Legislative Research, and Senate Research shall provide such legal, research, clerical, technical, and bill drafting services as the Joint Interim Committee may require in the performance of its duties; and

Be it further resolved that the actual and necessary expenses of the Joint Interim Committee, its members, and any staff assigned to the Joint Interim Committee incurred by the Joint Interim Committee shall be paid by the Joint Contingent Fund.

We pray especially for our Doorkeepers Ken Holman and Don Rackers that You guide the hands and minds of their physicians and touch them with Your healing presence and bring them to full health. Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 7.

Whereas, international education is a critical component of higher education in Missouri and contributes to the economy of the state and to a diverse college environment, enhancing both academic and extra-curricular programs; and

Whereas, international education is critical to promoting a broadened worldview and therefore preparing Missourians for life and work in the global economy and creating a diverse academic environment by exchanging scholars and students between countries and building the foundation for future business success; and

Whereas, higher education should emphasize international education, including foreign language instruction and study abroad in order to ensure graduates have the cross-cultural skills necessary to function effectively in the global workforce; and

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly recognizes the social importance of cultural awareness, the need to promote study-abroad programs that serve Missouri students and the economic significance of international students who come to Missouri for educational opportunities provided by the state; and

Whereas, the net contribution to our state's economy by international students and their families was estimated at over $217 million in 2006-2007 and a strategy at the state and national level is needed to ensure America's status as a magnet for international students and scholars; and

Whereas, the economy of Missouri is inextricably tied to the rest of the world and state economic development depends upon a deliberate strategic development plan that includes recognition of the role of international education in all its facets; and

Whereas, heightened cultural awareness is critical to national interests and is a critical component of foreign policy, and Missouri's colleges and universities play a key role in developing foreign language and foreign-area expertise by promoting language study, study abroad, and faculty exchange programs; and

Whereas, the United States' national security and economic interests and competitiveness depend significantly on the country's ability to provide future leaders with the best education possible:

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that international education is an essential component of the future of the State of Missouri and the Missouri General Assembly supports and encourages students and faculty to promote international education as a part of curricular and extra-curricular life at the State's colleges and universities to ensure that students and future leaders are prepared to meet the challenges of a global society; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each institution of higher education in this state.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCS for HCR 21.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 21

Whereas, the Department of Health and Senior Services is currently seeking to reform the current funding formula for the distribution of funds to area agencies on aging; and

Whereas, the Department is currently in discussions with the area agencies on aging and has conducted extensive research for a new formula for the distribution of funds to area agencies on aging that is more equitable to the needs of seniors; and

Whereas, a new formula will include more effective allowances for social and economic need as opposed to geographic location or population; and

Whereas, after completing its study on the issue, the House Interim Committee on Senior Nutrition concurred with the Department of Health and Senior Services that reform of the current funding formula for the distribution of funds to area agencies on aging would be a benefit to the seniors of this state; and

Whereas, in the final report of the House Interim Committee on Senior Nutrition, the Interim Committee supported the efforts of the Department of Health and Senior Services to reform the current funding formula for the distribution of funds to area agencies on aging:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby support and endorse the efforts of the Department of Health and Senior Services to more equitably meet the nutrition needs of our seniors by reforming the current funding formula for the distribution of funds to area agencies on aging; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Governor and the Director of the Department of Health and Senior Services.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 5.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5

Whereas, the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides medical care for veterans, including men and women, who have risked their lives to protect the security of our nation; and

Whereas, the funding for this health care at the VA is passed each year by Congress as part of the discretionary budget; and

Whereas, each year the budget that gets passed has been seriously underfunded; and

Whereas, this serious and now chronic shortfall affects the access to and the quality of medical care services that the VA provides for our veterans; and

Whereas, the priority of serving our veterans must be absolute and irrevocable, and must be the foundation for the VA and for our nation:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urgently request the United States Congress to pass assured funding for Veterans Health Care; and

Be it further resolved that the Governor and the Missouri Congressional Delegation are urgently requested to support assured funding for our veterans' health care; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, key members of Congress, all veterans organizations registered with the Missouri Veterans' Commission, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 19.

Whereas, deaf and hard of hearing children have the same right and potential to become as independent and self-actualizing as their hearing peers:

- (11) Children who are deaf or hard of hearing are entitled to have the public fully informed concerning medical, cultural, and linguistic issues of deafness and hearing loss;
- (12) Children who are deaf or hard of hearing benefit by having deaf and hard of hearing adults involved in determining the extent, content, and purpose of programs that affect their education; and
- (13) Children who are deaf or hard of hearing are entitled to free and unrestricted communication with others who communicate in their same language mode. The child's preferred mode of communication should be respected in order to attain the highest education possible for that individual in an appropriate environment; and

Be it further resolved that notwithstanding any of the above principles, nothing in this resolution shall require:

- (1) Individual school districts to ensure the availability of a specific number of deaf or hard of hearing peers; or
- (2) Parents to abrogate their statutory rights to educational choice; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 8.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

Whereas, hydrocephalus is a serious neurological condition, characterized by the abnormal build up of cerebrospinal fluids in the ventricles of the brain; and

Whereas, there is no known cure for hydrocephalus, which effects an estimated one million Americans; and

Whereas, one or two in every one thousand babies are born with hydrocephalus; and

Whereas, over 375,000 older Americans have hydrocephalus which often goes undetected or misdiagnosed as dementia, Alzheimer's disease, or Parkinson's disease; and

Whereas, with appropriate diagnosis and treatment, people with hydrocephalus are able to live full and productive lives; and

Whereas, the standard treatment for hydrocephalus was developed in 1953 and carries multiple risks, including shunt failure, infection, and over drainage; and

Whereas, there are fewer than ten centers in the United States specializing in the treatment of adults with normal pressure hydrocephalus; and

Whereas, each year the people of the United States spend in excess of one million dollars to treat hydrocephalus; and

Whereas, the Hydrocephalus Association is one of the nation's oldest and largest patient and research advocacy and support network for individuals suffering from hydrocephalus; and

Whereas, further research into the epidemiology, pathology, disease burden, and improved treatment of hydrocephalus should be conducted and supported; and

Whereas, public awareness and professional education regarding hydrocephalus should increase through partnership between the local, state, and federal governments and patient advocacy organizations, such as the Hydrocephalus Association:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby recognize the month of April 2008 as "Hydrocephalus Awareness Month" in Missouri so that Missourians can become more familiar with hydrocephalus and the individuals dedicated to finding its cure; and

Be it further resolved that the Missouri General Assembly urges the federal government to collect comprehensive statistics and data regarding the seriousness of hydrocephalus and its impact on American families.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that House has taken up and adopted HCR 16.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

Whereas, the Government Pension Offset (GPO) and Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) of the federal Social Security Act penalize people who have dedicated their lives to public and military service by taking away benefits they have earned; and

Whereas, nine out of ten public employees affected by the GPO lose their entire spousal benefit, even though their spouse paid Social Security taxes for many years; and

Whereas, the WEP causes hard-working people to lose up to sixty percent of the benefits they earned themselves; and

Whereas, many workers rely on misleading Social Security Administration statements that fail to take into account the GPO and WEP when projecting benefits; and

Whereas, the impact of the GPO and WEP is not just felt in those states in which public employees, including retired veterans, are not covered by Social Security, because people move from state to state and affected individuals are everywhere; and

Whereas, the GPO and WEP apply to Missouri retired veterans; and

Whereas, the number of people affected across the country is growing every day as more and more people reach retirement age; and

Whereas, some 300,000 individuals lose an average of $3,600 a year due to the GPO which can make the difference between self-sufficiency and poverty; and

Whereas, these people have less money to spend in their local economy and sometimes have to turn to expensive government programs like food stamps to make ends meet; and

Whereas, the nation should respect, not penalize, public and military service; and

Whereas, the GPO and WEP are established in federal law and repeal of the GPO and WEP can only be enacted by the United States Congress:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the Congress of the United States to immediately repeal the Government Pension Offset and Windfall Elimination Provision of the Social Security Act; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 18.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 18

Whereas, the western part of Missouri is a growing, vital part of Missouri's commerce and economic development; and

Whereas, U.S. Highway 71 is an important link for communities, companies, and citizens along this corridor; and

Whereas, the Missouri I-49 Coalition is a nonprofit organization consisting of concerned citizens, organizations, and communities organized for the sole purpose of improving U.S. Highway 71 to interstate standards and designating it as part of Interstate 49; and

Whereas, designation of U.S. Highway 71 as a part of I-49 will provide western Missouri with the shortest direct route into international commerce by way of the Gulf of Mexico at New Orleans:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby:

- (1) Recognize the Missouri I-49 Coalition as the official organization for this project in the State of Missouri;
- (2) Recognize the importance of I-49 to the State of Missouri;
- (3) Support the upgrading of U.S. Highway 71 to interstate standards;
- (4) Encourage the Missouri Department of Transportation to support conceptually the idea of an I-49 corridor;
- (5) Encourage the Missouri Congressional Delegation to pursue federal funds to assist with this project; and
- (6) Urge the United States Department of Transportation to support the designation of U.S. Highway 71 in Missouri as a part of Interstate 49; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Mary E. Peters, the Secretary of the United States Department of Transportation, Pete Rahn, the Director of the Missouri Department of Transportation, each member of the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 26.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 26

Whereas, providing art, drama, and music education teaches our children to compete creatively in our global economy; promotes greater success in math, reading, problem solving, decision making, self-esteem, self-discipline, and accepting responsibility to finish tasks; and contributes to higher attendance and graduation rates; and

Whereas, comprehensive arts education is eroding in our public schools, with instructional time for art and music being reduced by 22% in school districts; and

Whereas, the federal government recognizes the importance of art education in our children's education by designating it as a required core academic subject; and

Whereas, students who participate in the arts outperform those who do not on virtually every measure. Researchers have found that sustained learning in music and theater correlates to greater success in math and reading, with students from lower socioeconomic backgrounds reaping the greatest benefits; and

Whereas, the arts are uniquely able to boost learning and achievement for young children, students with disabilities, students from economically disadvantaged circumstances, and students needing remedial instruction. A 1992 Auburn University study found significant increases in self-concept of at-risk children participating in an arts program that included music, movement, dramatics, and arts, as measured by the Piers-Harris Children's Self-Concept Scale; and

Whereas, skills learned through the discipline of music transfer to study skills, communication skills, and cognitive skills useful in every part of the curriculum. In 1992, researchers at the University of Montreal used various brain imaging techniques to investigate brain activity during musical tasks and found that sight-reading musical scores and playing music both activate regions in all four of the cortex's lobes, and that parts of the cerebellum are also activated during those tasks. Likewise, in 1994, researchers in Leipzig found that brain scans of musicians showed larger planum temporale (a brain region related to some reading skills) than those of non-musicians. They also found that the musicians had a thicker corpus callosum (the bundle of nerve fibers that connects the two halves of the brain) than those of non-musicians, especially for those who had begun their training before the age of seven; and

Whereas, researchers have found music therapy to be beneficial in unlocking the social interactions autism prevents in autistic children and in treating people who may not be able to speak as a result of brain damage from a stroke; and

Whereas, the schools that produce the highest academic achievement in the United States today are spending 20% to 30% of the day on the arts. United States Department of Education data from 1999 show that students who report consistently high levels of involvement in instrumental music during the middle school and high school years show "significantly higher levels of mathematics proficiency by grade 12"; and

Whereas, with music in schools, students connect to each other better, resulting in greater camaraderie, fewer fights, less racism, and reduced use of hurtful sarcasm. With music instruction in schools, teachers found that students were less aggressive. Nine out of ten adults and teenagers who play instruments agree that music making brings the family closer together. College-age musicians are emotionally healthier than their non-musician counterparts for performance anxiety, emotional concerns, and alcohol-related problems; and

Whereas, the National Association for Music Education reports that schools that have music programs have significantly higher attendance rates (93.3% as compared to 84.9%) and graduation rates (90.2% as compared to 72.9%). As the percentage of students enrolled in a music class increases, so does the graduation rate of the school:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby acknowledge the commitment of school districts in Missouri to enrich the lives of students through the fine arts and commend their efforts; and

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly recognizes the importance of fine arts in our children's public education and the profound effect they have on the ability of students to interact, communicate, learn, and achieve in a global economy, where every advantage available is necessary; and

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly strongly urges and encourages the Governor of the State of Missouri and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to secure these advantages to our students by seeking additional funding for fine arts education from all available sources, including federal grants and aid; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Matt Blunt, the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, and each school district in Missouri.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 25

Whereas, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is charged with protecting the public from unreasonable risks of serious injury or death from more than 15,000 types of consumer products under the agency's jurisdiction. The CPSC has rated furniture tip-overs as number 3 of the top 5 hidden home hazards; and

Whereas, according to the CPSC, each year an estimated 3,000 children ages 5 and younger nationwide go to the emergency room with injuries caused by television sets falling or tipping over, and at least 100 people - mostly young children - have been killed since 2000 by falling televisions or other furniture; and

Whereas, in September of 2006, the CPSC warned parents and caregivers about the dangers of television and heavy furniture tipping over and killing young children. From 2000 to 2005, CPSC had reports of 36 television tip-over deaths and 65 furniture tip-over deaths. More than 80% of all these deaths involved young children; and

Whereas, the number of deaths due to furniture tip-overs is on the rise. In 2006, the CPSC reported 31 deaths from improperly secured furniture and televisions, with tip-overs resulting in an average of 22 deaths per year; and

Whereas, very heavy furniture items can potentially cause crush injuries, but more commonly when a large dresser, shelf, or home entertainment center tips, the resulting injury is often suffocation. Children become pinned between the tipping furniture and the bed or floor, unable to breathe or call for help, making it a nearly silent event; and

Whereas, the danger of tipping comes when a child tries to climb the front of a furniture piece. In these accidents, the child attempts to reach the top of the furniture piece by using a bottom drawer or shelf like a step. The weight of the furniture and the child pulling down in the front causes the whole piece to tilt forward. Heavy items on top of the furniture can fall on the child or the furniture piece itself can fall forward onto the child; and

Whereas, the committee of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) met in March 2007 to discuss and revise a proposed standard for testing tipping on dressers, armoires, and drawer chests. However, the ASTM can only establish voluntary standards and the proposed revised standard does not include other types of furniture, such as entertainment centers, television stands, or any piece of furniture 30 inches in height or less; and

Whereas, while the ASTM, furniture executives, and consumer safety advocates are working together to form voluntary safety standards to address this issue, the increase in tipping furniture deaths and injuries to children demands mandatory regulation regarding labeling, furniture standards, and the use of anchoring devices:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress and the Consumer Product Safety Commission to immediately enact mandatory regulations that:

- (1) Strengthens and makes mandatory the ASTM International's voluntary furniture safety standard for furniture tip-over hazards;
- (2) Requires warning labels on tip-over risks to be posted on all assembled and ready-to-assemble furniture and major appliances; and
- (3) Requires all furniture and major appliances with a tip-over risk to come with anchoring devices that can be used to safely secure them to walls; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Nancy A. Nord, the Acting Chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCS for HB 2328, entitled:

An Act to amend chapters 135 and 144, RSMo, by adding thereto two new sections relating to tax incentives.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 41

WHEREAS, the Boeing Company Integrated Defense Systems (Boeing), based in St. Louis, Missouri, has been building and maintaining refueling tankers for the United States Air Force (USAF) for 50 years and has more experience building tankers than any other company in the world; and

WHEREAS, Boeing has proposed the KC-767 as a replacement for the KC-135 Stratotanker, an American-made tanker that has been in use since 1958; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 meets or exceeds all USAF requirements, including range and fuel offload capabilities, mission flexibility for carrying patients, passengers, and material; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 will interoperate with 99% of USAF's existing equipment, saving an estimated $4 billion in lifecycle costs, and will operate from existing infrastructure throughout the world saving the expense of costly runway, tarmac, and hangar expansion required for a larger plane; and

WHEREAS, the KC-767 would have created or sustained 44,000 jobs in 40 states with 300 suppliers; and

WHEREAS, on February 29, 2008, the USAF announced the selection of European Aeronautic Defence and Space Company (EADS), a company based in France, and its partner Northrop Grumman Corporation, for a contract to replace aerial refueling tankers, a contract that could reach in excess of $100 billion in value; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Government has a WTO lawsuit pending against EADS regarding illegal subsidies that have caused great harm to U.S. Industry; and

WHEREAS, EADS routinely sells military products and technology to countries on the U.S. Embargo list; and

WHEREAS, the EADS tanker is wasteful and bad for the environment as it burns 24% more fuel and pumps 30% greater emissions into our environment than the KC-767; and

WHEREAS, EADS and Northrop Grumman have never jointly built a tanker aircraft or delivered an air-to-air refueling boom, while Boeing has built and upgraded over 2,000 operational tankers and delivered over 1,800 air-to-air refueling booms; and

WHEREAS, given the current state of the U.S. economy, taxpayer dollars should not be used to fund the economic growth of European countries, while America loses 44,000 quality jobs associated with the KC-767; and

WHEREAS, relying on a foreign supplier of military equipment is unwise and not in the national security interest of the country:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Air Force to reconsider its decision to replace the KC-135 refueling tanker with a tanker supplied by a foreign company that is substantially built in foreign countries; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly strongly urges the President of the United States and Congress to immediately and vigorously investigate the proposed outsourcing of taxpayer-funded jobs, and its impact on the U.S. economy and the procurement process that made possible this transfer of billions of dollars to foreign workers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly urge the President of the United States and Congress to investigate and thoroughly review the benefits, costs, and national security risks associated with contracting for the design and construction of high-technology military equipment and systems in and by foreign nations which may not always share U.S. interests, objectives, and missions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the United States Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of the Air Force, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“The divine test of a man’s worth is not his theology but his life.” (Morris Joseph)

Almighty Father, each day we walk down these halls and we see the faces of all those former Senators and staff who have served before us. And what we remember most of them is not their speeches but the lives they lived and the giving of themselves flowed from their sense of service. Let us also be mindful of our legacy and the things that will be remembered about us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.
